

L. L. Fil.

323^{wa}

L. Lab. fil
hisp

323 na

Mac Henry

EXHIBIT

1880

STATIONER & PRINTER

100 N. 3rd St.

St. Paul

STANLEY L. LORAN

100 N. 3rd St.

St. Paul

STANLEY L. LORAN

100 N. 3rd St.

St. Paul

1880

STANLEY L. LORAN

EXERCISES

ON THE

ETYMOLOGY, SYNTAX, IDIOMS,

AND SYNONYMS,

OF THE

SPANISH LANGUAGE.

BY

L. J. A. M^c HENRY,

A NATIVE OF SPAIN,

AUTHOR OF AN IMPROVED SPANISH GRAMMAR,

DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR SELF INSTRUCTORS.

LONDON:

PRINTED FOR THE AUTHOR: AND SOLD BY SHERWOOD, NEELY, AND JONES, PATERNOSTER-ROW; BOOSEY, BROAD-STREET; DULAU AND CO.

SOHO-SQUARE; DECONCHY, NEW BOND-STREET;

AND BY THE AUTHOR, NO. 39, FRIDAY-STREET, CHEAPSIDE.

1814.

✓

The AUTHOR teaches and translates the SPANISH, FRENCH, and ENGLISH LANGUAGES, upon the usual Terms, either abroad or at No. 39, Friday-street, Cheapside.

Entered at Stationers-Hall.

ERRATA.

Page 23, line 23, for malo, lose, read malo, prefixed, lose.
— 47, — 10, for dar read dió.
— 48, — 30, for empeñamos read nos empeñamos.

Richard & Arthur Taylor, Printers' Court, Shoe Lane.

PREFACE.

THE nature and object of Exercises on Grammar are too well understood, and their utility and importance in elucidating or fixing, by practical application, the rules and principles of a language, too highly appreciated, to require any explanation, or to render much apology necessary for the introduction of the present small volume.

That there are already in circulation several books of Spanish Exercises, some of them possessing considerable merit, the writer does not mean to deny; but he begs leave to observe that, as these have been adapted exclusively, or more particularly, to the different Grammars of their respective Authors, no work of this description existed, which, without much trouble and inconvenience, could be rendered subservient to the peculiar arrangement adopted in the Grammar lately published by the present Writer.

Thus circumstanced, and influenced by the many testimonies of approbation, both public and private, so liberally bestowed on his Spanish Grammar, of which nearly the whole of a large impression has been sold with unexpected rapidity, the Author felt anxious to prepare, with as much expedition as the pressure of business, and due attention to the subject would permit, a suitable volume of appropriate Exercises. That such a work was really wanted, he is much inclined to infer, from the reiterated inquiries made for it, especially by those persons who have been pleased to bestow their preference on his preceding production.

Desirous of enhancing the utility of the present work, the Author has endeavoured to render the Exercises progressively difficult, partly by avoiding a repetition of the Spanish words, and partly by leaving undeclined every part of speech, which has already been, or which actually is, the immediate object of elucidation.

Having introduced Promiscuous or Recapitulatory Exercises, whenever it seemed necessary or expedient, the Author has ventured to deviate from the usual mode of concluding similar works, by substituting, instead of uninteresting or irrelevant extracts, a few Exercises on the more common Idioms and Synonyms of the Language, an innovation which he trusts cannot but prove greatly advantageous to every class of learners.

To conclude:—The Author returns his sincere thanks for the liberal reception which his former Work has experienced, and humbly trusts, that, as in composing this little volume, he has been invariably directed by the same desire as influenced him formerly, that of facilitating the progress and promoting the improvement of the Learner, his present endeavours, however limited, will likewise receive some portion of that approbation so generally bestowed on every publication which has for its real object the communication of knowledge.

Friday Street, January 1814.

Lately published, by the same Author,

AN IMPROVED SPANISH GRAMMAR,

Designed for every Class of Learners, but especially for such as are their own Instructors.

“Justice compels us to say, that this is the most complete Spanish Grammar for the use of Englishmen extant. It fully performs the promises in the title-page.”—British Neptune, Aug. 1812.

“We think this Grammar decidedly preferable, in its arrangement, to the one commonly used; nor is its arrangement only superior, its contents are likewise more valuable and more suited to the wants of a learner.”—Universal Magazine, May, 1812.

“So far as a cursory inspection may be supposed to enable us, we think favourably of this performance.”—Literary Panorama, June, 1812.

“The Author has paid more than ordinary attention to the subject of pronunciation. The rules are laid down with brevity and distinctness, and sufficiently illustrated by examples; and in short we think that this work of Mr. M’Henry will be a useful guide to those who wish to form an acquaintance with the language of Spain.”—Critical Review, July, 1812.

“The Author is eminently qualified for the task which he has undertaken, and which he has performed with equal ability and success. He has certainly produced the most generally useful Grammar of the Spanish Language which we have seen. His rules are plain and easily intelligible; his method is simple and perspicuous; and his explanations are such as greatly to facilitate the acquisition of the Spanish tongue to those, who have not the means of procuring the assistance of a master.”—Antijacobin Review, May, 1812.

EXERCISES

ON THE

ETYMOLOGY AND SYNTAX

OF THE

SPANISH LANGUAGE.

Preliminary Observation.

WHEN two or more English words are enclosed by brackets, the Spanish underneath is equivalent to the whole enclosure, and vice versa. A horizontal line under the English implies a similarity of spelling, with this distinction, that a soft t in English must be changed into c in Spanish. Words having this mark $\wedge$ underneath are not to be translated. Numerical figures preceding English words point out the Spanish arrangement. The letters a, b, c, &c. refer to the Notes in the Author's Grammar.

ON THE ARTICLE.

The Spanish articles are,

		Sing.	Plur.
The	{ Masculine	el	los
	{ Feminine	la	las { Neuter	lo

Agreement of the Article.

Rule 1. The article agrees in gender, number, and case, with the noun to which it is prefixed; as El libro contenia los comentarios de los doctores de la universidad sobre las profecias de los profetas.—

The book contained the commentaries of the doctors of the university on the prophecies of the prophets.

The baker baked the bread in the oven. The woman panadero coció pan m. en horno m. muger found the bundle at the door of the house. The soldier halló lio m. á puerta f. casa f. soldado carried the muskets to the barracks of the town. The llevó fusiles m. cuarteles m. ciudad f. general approved the resistance of the patriots. The — aprobó resistencia f. patriotas m. ox ploughed the land for the farmer. The judge buey m. aró tierra f. para labrador. juez granted the pardon to the witch. The legislator has concedió perdon m. hechicera legislador ha ordained the observance of the commandments. The mandado observancia f. mandamientos m. sailors tied the sails to the yards of the frigate.
marineros amarraron velas f. vergas f. fregata f.

Note.—Feminine nouns, beginning with a or ha, accented on the first syllable, take in the singular the masculine article; as, Mas el arca andaba sobre las aguas,—But the ark moved upon the waters.

Exercise.—The eagle swam in the water of the águila f. nadó agua f.
 pool. The waters of the sea drowned the birds. laguna f. aguas mar f. ahogaron aves f.
 The boy broke the handles of the jugs and the muchacho quebró asas f. jarros m. handle of the cup with the horn of the cow. The bird asa f. tasa f. asta f. vaca f. ave f. had lost the tail and the wing in the trap. habia perdido cola f. ala f. trampa f.

Note a.—The eagles of the army were deposited águilas ejército m. fueron depositadas in the chapel of the college. The captain attributed capilla f. colegio m. capitan m. atribuyó the victory to the assault of the castle, and not to the victoria f. asalto m. castillo m. y no hunger of the army. The wings of the bird were hambre ejército alas ave f. estaban clipt. The altar of the idol was behind the cortadas. ára f. idolo m. estaba detras de altars of the goddesses, and to the east of the temple. áras diosas oriente m. templo m.

 The songster sang the air in the orchestra of the king. cantor m. cantó ária f. orquesta f. rey

Promiscuous Exercises.

The affection of the mother was the cause of the carino m. madre fué causa f. death of the sons. The ambassador received by the muerte f. hijos embajador recibió courier of the queen, the letters from the minister of correo m. reyna cartas f. ministro the king to the emperor of the East. The culprit rey emperador oriente m. reo m. committed the crime close to the door of the gallery of cometió delito m. junto corredor m. the house. In the beginning the Creator created the casa f. principio m. Criador creó heaven and the earth, divided the light from the darkness, cielo m. tierra f. dividio lux f. tinieblas f. p.
 and made the firmament, and divided the waters which é hizo firmamento m. que were under the firmament from the waters which estaban debajo de were above the firmament. The miracles of the apostles sobre milagros m. apóstoles were the proofs of the authenticity of the mission. fueron pruebas f. autenticidad f. mision f.
 Abraham saw the ram entangled by the horns Abrahan vió carnero m. enredado ásta among the brambles in the mount. entre abrojos m. monte m.

Plural Number.

Rule 2. Nouns ending in a vowel which is not accented, take an s in the plural ; as, Reyno, kingdom, reynos, kingdoms ; corona, crown, coronas, crowns.

The sun, the moon, the planets, the stars, were the sol m. luna f. planeta m. estrella f. eran idols of the Egyptians. The Pagans sacrificed the ídolo m. Egipcio m. Pagano m. sacrificaban victims upon the altars of the idol. The planet Mer-victima f. sobre Mercury is, of all the planets, the nearest to the sun. curio es todos [mas próximo]

Rule 3. Nouns which end in an accented vowel, or in a consonant*, take es in the plural; as, Jabalí, wild boar, jabalies, wild boars; árbol, tree, árboles, trees; luz, light, luces, lights.

The thieves had scaled the walls of the gardens ladron m. habian escalado pared f. jardin m. before the clocks of the churches had struck the antes que reloj m. iglesia f. hubiesen dado hour. The houses in the suburbs of the towns were hora f. casa f. arrabal m. ciudad f. estaban full of the authors, who had written against the llenas autor m. que habian escrito contra authorities. The Peripatetics were the followers of the autoridad f. Peripatetico m. eran sequax m. philosopher Aristotle. The two farmers lived in two filósofo m. Aristoteles dos labrador vivian rooms, which might, with greater propriety, be Quarto m. que podian con mayor propiedad ser called two [lofts] or lumberholes than apartllamados camaranchon m. ó zaquixami m. que viviments.
enda f.

Note a.—The oxen (2) had (1) not yet ploughed buey m. habian no aun arado the fields, and numerous flocks of sheep were campo m. numerosas grey f. oveja f. estaban grazing in the verdant meadows. The kings and paciendo verdes prado m. rey the emperors of the earth nominate the judges who emperador tierra f. nombran á juez m. que

* A final z must be changed into c.

[are to judge] the transgressors of the law [according han de juzgar á transgresor m. ley f. segun to] the laws.

Exceptions.—She acted only twelve Mondays, six *ella representaba solo * Lunes* Thursdays, and four Saturdays, in the year. Buy Jueves Sabado á año m. compra three pen-knives and two gun-screws. The cook hung corta plumas sacatrapos cocinero m. colgó the boiler on the pot-hook, instead of putting it on marmita f. en llares f. en lugar poner la sobre the trivet. The stork drew with the beak the bone trébedes f. cigüena f. sacó con pico m. hueso m. of the lamb from the gullet of the wolf.
cordero m. de fauces f. lobo m.

Promiscuous Exercises.

The acts of the parliament contain the laws of the acta f. parlamento m. contienen realm. The revolutions of the planets and the eclipses reino m. revolucion f. eclipse m. of the sun are found in the Ephemeris. The Anase encuentran efemérides f. Anachorites in the deserts are free from the effects of the coreta desierto m. estan libres efecto m. vexations of the world. The love of the subjects, and vejacion mundom. amorm. vasallo m. the efforts of the nations, are the succours of the kings esfuerzom. nacion f. son socorro m. of the earth, in the disturbances of the state. The turbacion f. estado m.
 Israelites whom Moses delivered from the bondage of Israelitam. que Moises sacó servidumbre f. the king of the Egyptians were six hundred fueron seis cientos thousand, without counting the old men, the women, mil sin contar anciano muger and the children.
y niño m.

* See Cardinal Numbers, Grammar, page 37.

Use of the Definite Article.

Henceforth the genders will not be marked, unless the nouns form exceptions to Rules 4, 5, and 6. See Grammar.

Rule 7. Nouns taken in a definite sense require the article; as—Las virtudes de los santos, the virtues of the saints.

The corruption of the heart is often the cause of corrupcion corazon es amenudo causa the corruption of the mind. The printers printed the alma f. impresor imprimieron resolutions of the meeting in the gazettes of the govern-resolucion junta gazeta gobi-ment. The death of the Saviour of the (2) human erno muerte f. Salvador humano
 (1) race was announced to the world by the darkness género fué anunciada por which covered the face of the earth.
que cubrieron fax f.

Rule 8. Nouns used in their most general sense are preceded by the article; as—La virtud es amable, virtue is amiable.

Printers make use of (2) moveable (1) characters.
se sirven movibles carácter
 Death is a single moment between time and eternity.
es un solo momento entre tiempo eternidad Pride and vanity are often the cause of the misfortunes orgullo vanidad son amenudo causa desgracia incident to (2) human (1) life. Interest, glory, and incidentes humana vida interes gloria ambition are commonly the motives of the actions of comunmente motivo accion men. Iron and steel are more useful than gold and hierro acero mas útiles que oro silver. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of plata Señor es principio wisdom.
sabiduría

Rule 9. Names of empires, kingdoms, countries, provinces, mountains, rivers, winds, and seasons, take the article; as—La Inglaterra, England; el otoño, autumn.

Ireland is more populous than Scotland. Europe, Irlanda es mas populosa que Escocia Europa Asia, Africa, and America, are the four parts of the Asia ———— son quatro partes.

world. Olympus and Parnassus are famous mountains. Olimpo Parnaso famosos monte

North, south, east, and west, are the principal winds. norte sur este oeste principales viento

Spring, summer, autumn, and winter, are the four primavera verano otoño hivierno seasons of the year.

estacion

Note a.—France is separated from Spain by Francia esta separada de España por

the Pyrennees, and from Italy by the Alps. England Pirineo Italia Alpe Inglaterra

defended Spain against the attacks of France. The eyes defendió á contra ataque ojo

of Turkey watched the movements of Russia. The Em- Turquía observaban movimiento Rusia peror of Germany set off from Russia in the spring, and Alemania partió spent the summer in Turkey.

pasó

Note b.—Algiers is a kingdom of Africa. Tunis is a (2) fertile (1) country. Genoa is a (2) maritime Argel reino

(1) country. es un fértil pais Genova un marítimo

Note c.—The forty martyrs of Japan are forty persons who suffered martyrdom in Japan. The greatest quan- cuarenta mártir Japon persona tity of sugar and of rum, which [is consumed] in Eng- que padecieron el martirio mayor can- land, comes from Brazil. tidad azúcar ron que se consume

viene

Brazil.

Use of the Definite Article.

Henceforth the genders will not be marked, unless the nouns form exceptions to Rules 4, 5, and 6. See Grammar.

Rule 7. Nouns taken in a definite sense require the article; as—Las virtudes de los santos, the virtues of the saints.

The corruption of the heart is often the cause of
corrupcion corazon es amenudo causa
 the corruption of the mind. The printers printed the
alma f. impresor imprimieron
 resolutions of the meeting in the gazettes of the govern-resolucion junta gazeta gobi-
 ment. The death of the Saviour of the (2) human
erno muerte f. Salvador humano
 (1) race was announced to the world by the darkness
género fué anunciada por
 which covered the face of the earth.
que cubrieron fax f.

Rule 8. Nouns used in their most general sense are preceded by the article; as—La virtud es amable, virtue is amiable.

Printers make use of (2) moveable (1) characters.
se sirven movibles carácter
 Death is a single moment between time and eternity.
es un solo momento entre tiempo eternidad
 Pride and vanity are often the cause of the misfortunes
orgullo vanidad son amenudo causa desgracia
 incident to (2) human (1) life. Interest, glory, and
incidentes humana vida interes gloria
 ambition are commonly the motives of the actions of
comunmente motivo accion
 men. Iron and steel are more useful than gold and hierro acero mas útiles que oro
 silver. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of plata Señor es principio
 wisdom.
sabiduría

Rule 9. Names of empires, kingdoms, countries, provinces, mountains, rivers, winds, and seasons, take the article; as—La Inglaterra, England; el otoño, autumn.

Ireland is more populous than Scotland. Europe, Irlanda es mas populosa que Escocia Europa Asia, Africa, and America, are the four parts of the Asia ———— son quatro partes.

world. Olympus and Parnassus are famous mountains, Olimpo Parnaso famosos monte

North, south, east, and west, are the principal winds, norte sur este oeste principales viento

Spring, summer, autumn, and winter, are the four primavera verano otoño hivierno

seasons of the year.

estacion

Note a.—France is separated from Spain by Francia esta separada de España por

the Pyrennees, and from Italy by the Alps. England Pirineo Italia Alpe Inglaterra

defended Spain against the attacks of France. The eyes defendió á contra ataque ojo

of Turkey watched the movements of Russia. The Em- Turquía observaban movimiento Rusia

peror of Germany set off from Russia in the spring, and Alemania partió

spent the summer in Turkey.

pasó

Note b.—Algiers is a kingdom of Africa. Tunis Argel reino is a (2) fertile (1) country. Genoa is a (2) maritime es un fértil país Genova un marítimo

(1) country.

Note c.—The forty martyrs of Japan are forty persons cuarenta mártir Japon persona who suffered martyrdom in Japan. The greatest quan- que padecieron el martirio mayor can-

tity of sugar and of rum, which [is consumed] in Eng- tidad azúcar ron que se consume land, comes from Brazil.

viene Brasil.

Rule 10. Nouns of measure, weight, &c. when preceded by the price, require the article; as—A veinte peniques la libra, at twenty pence a pound.

Wine [sells] at one dollar a bottle, butter at eighteen vino se vende á un duro botella manteca diez y ocho pence a pound, and eggs at twelve shillings a hundred. penique libra huevo doce eschelin ciento The coffee which the Egyptians buy at four-pence a café que compran pound [is sold] afterwards at two-pence an ounce. My se vende despues dos onza mi master comes twice a week, and (2) charges (1) me maestro viene dos veces semana carga me twenty guineas a year.
veinte ——— a el año

Note a.—The duties amount to ten crowns per derecho suben diez escudo por bale. The courier received money [at the rate] of fardo correo recibió dinero á raxon a shilling per mile.
un milla

Note b.—Cut me a yard at four shillings and sixpence cortame Quatro
 a yard, and ten yards at two shillings and a penny diez per yard.

Rule 11.—Señor, señora, señorito, señorita, when used in the third person of both numbers, require the article; as—El señor Don Juan, Mr. John.

[I have just learned] that you are Senior Gil Blas of acabo de saber que vm. es Señor ——— Santillana. Mr. Lopes received from Messieurs Garcia Señor recibió Señor and Company [five hundred] pounds a year. Senior compañía quinientas Gil Blas, [said he to me,] rising from [table.] Madam, me dijo alzandose la mesa Señora said Mr. Raphael to his mother, [don't you remember] dijo Señor su no os acordais to have seen this face? One of my slaves [said to me] de haber visto esta cara uno mis esclavo me dijo two days afterwards, Sir, [look to yourself]. You dia mire vm. por sí vms. already know, gentlemen, that I am the son of a rich ya saben Señor que yo soy a hijo un rico citizen of Madrid.

vecino

Note b.—Doctor Harvey discovered the circu-descubrió lation of the blood. Father Ysla translated the work sangre f. padre tradujo obra of Mr. Le Sage. King John granted many pri-Juan concedió muchos privileges to England. Princess Amelia was the daughter vilegio princesa — era a hija of King George. Know then that I am the substitute Jorge sabete pues sustituto of Doctor Sangredo.

Rule 12. Numerals, when denoting either the day of the month or the hour of the day, generally take the article; as—El seis de Enero, the sixth of January; la una, one o'clock; las onze, eleven o'clock.

On the twenty first of June the sun rises in England a Junio nace
 at a quarter before four, and it sets at a quarter past a se pone eight. The guns of the Tower [fire a salute] on the cañon torre f. hacen una salva fourth of June at one o'clock precisely. [We entered] en punto entramos happily [into] Astorga [at about] two o'clock in the felizmente en á cosa de de la afternoon, tardo

Rule 13. The article is frequently repeated before every noun enumerated, especially when they differ in gender; as—La Fé, la Esperanza, y la Caridad, Faith, Hope, and Charity.

[I am not ignorant of] the virtue and wisdom of Ulysses. no ignoro virtud sabiduría ——— donde esta ahí constancy, fortitude. Thus fell the (2) Roman (1) emconstancia fortaleza así cayó Romano impire, and involved in its ruins fell likewise the perio envueltas en sus ruinas cayeron tambien arts and sciences. Under the equator the days and nights arte f. ciencia debajo de equador dia f. noche f. are equal. Patience and perseverance are necessary.
son iguales paciencia perseverancia necesarias

Rule 14. Nouns used in apposition admit the article only before the first; as—La ciudad de Londres, capital de Inglaterra y residencia del soberano, the city of London, the capital of England and the residence of the sovereign.

Solomon the son of David was endowed with wisdom.
 ——— fué dotado de
 I am Telemachus, the son of Ulysses, the king of Ithaca. yo soy Telemaco Itaca [It would be very strange] that Rome, the sovereign seria bien de extrañar soberana and the mother of all the churches; that Rome, the todas que Roma centre of truth and unity, [should teach] absurdities! centro verdad unidad enseñase absurdo Christian eloquence has for its object God himself, the Cristiana eloqüencia tiene por su objeto á Dios mismo source of all greatness. origen toda grandexa

Rule 15. Proper names of persons, places, and months, take no article; as—Socrates, Socrates; Roma, Rome; Avril, April.

Cicero and Quintilian divide style into three kinds.

Ciceron Quintiliano dividen estilo en género London and Paris are two famous capitals. July and Londres — son famosas capital Julio

August are the two hottest months in the year, and Agosto mas calóricos mes de

December and January the two coldest.

Diciembre Enero mas frios

Note a.—Sunday is a day which we ought to consecrate to God. Ash Wednesday is the first day consagrar Miércoles de ceniza es primer of Lent. [He will return] Friday or Saturday.

quaresma volverá Viérnes ó Sábado.

Note c.—The (2) unpleasant (1) adventure which I had had in the house of the grocer. The innkeeper habia tenido en especiero mesonero

(2) conducted (1) me to the house of a carrier.

[Ye know not] what men [ye have] in the house.

vosotros no sabeis que teneis Note d.—[It is better] to be loved with respect than with tenderness. Libertines live without faith and without religion. We ought to suffer with patience the inconveniences of this life.

incomodidad esta vida

Rule 16. Nouns taken in a partitive sense are never preceded by the article; as—Dáme pan, give me bread; dále vino, give him some wine; dadnos miel, give us honey.

New kings, new laws. Besides gold and silver Europe draws from the New World pepper, sugar, tobacco, and several other things. I reserve my rooms, tabaco varias otras cosa reservo mis quarto said the landlady, for people who [do not sup on] bread dijo mesonera para gente que no cenan and cheese. The world abounds in snares, difficulties, queso abunda lazo dificultad and dangers. [There are] authors in whose writings [we peligro hay cuyos escrito discover] more rhetoric than eloquence. descubrimos mas retórica que eloquencia

Note a.—Without reckoning some rials more, which contar real que [I had stolen from my uncle.] I have some idea of habia hurtado á mi tio tengo — having seen that face. Men [are ashamed] sometimes haber visto esa cara se avergüenzan vex of their best actions. sus mejores accion

Note b.—[Has the post brought] any gazettes? ha traído el correo [It has not brought] either gazettes or journals. no ha traído ni ni diario [Are there] any pens in the inkstand? [Is there] any hay pluma tintero hay wine in the bottles?

Note d.—Charles the Second, son of Philip the Carlos Segundo Felipe
 Fourth, left his kingdom to Philip the Fifth. Wil-quarto dejó su reino quinto Guilliam the Third married Princess Mary, daughter of lermo tercero casó con princesa María hija James the Second, and grand-daughter of Charles the Jaime nieta
 First.
primero

Note c.—Send me some water in a glass. The Mándame un vaso doctor attributed his indisposition to some [roast atribuyó su — asado meat] which he had eaten. [It is requisite] to rub the que habia comido es menester frotar bruises with some vinegar. cardenal vinagre

Note e. — I bought yesterday a book entitled compré ayer un libro intitulado The Letters of Clement the Fourteenth. The life of Clemente catorce Cervantes [is found] at the beginning of his best work, se halla á su mejor obra entitled, The Life of Don Quixote. Mr. Capmany has intitulada señor ha written an excellent work on the philosophy of elo-escrito una excelente sobre filosofía quence, entitled The philosophy of eloquence. intitulada

NOUNS.

Rule 17. When two nouns signifying different things come together in English, their order is reversed in Spanish, and the preposition de prefixed to the second; as—La naturaleza del hombre, man's nature; Columna de marmol, marble pillar.

Diana's anger was the cause of Acteon's death, and Diana cólera fué Helen's beauty of Troy's destruction. Wisdom's pre-Elena hermosura Troya destruccion precepts form man's heart. The King of England's cepto forman [eldest son] is Prince of Wales. The king's portrait primogénito es Gales retrato [does not resemble him.] Nature's gifts are for man's no se le semeja naturaleza don son para advantage. [There are] many silk worms in Italy. ventaja hay muchos seda gusano Battles were more bloody before the invention of batalla eran mas sangrientas ántes de fire-arms. Sesostris was seated on an ivory throne, fuego arma estaba sentado en un marfil trono.

with a golden sceptre in his hand. Easter Sunday is un oro celro en su mano Pascuas Domingo es the last day of Lent. [Let not thy promises be] ultimo dia quaresma que no sean tus promesas like court promises.
como corte

Note a.—The ten commandments were written upon diez mandamiento estaban escritos sobre two tables of stone. (2) Sensual (1) pleasures are tabla piedra sensual placer son enemies to reason and to virtue. The (2) second enemigo razon dos (1) chapter treats of the frights which he had in the capitulo trata susto que tuvo road to Peñaflor; the ninth of the journey of Scipio to camino ——— nueve viage Scipion Madrid, and his return to Segovia.
su vuelta ———

Note b.—Claudina acknowledged to her sister that confesó su hermana que the rogue of a Moor (2) had (3) deceived (1) her. pícaro el Moro habia engañado la

Note c.—A clerk of the merchant's delivered the uno dependiente comerciante entregó memorial to a page of the prince's. [We walked] in ——— uno ——— nos paseamos en the queen's garden, and then went to see a garden reina luego fuimos á ver uno of the emperor's.

Note e.—Go to the surgeon's. [I went into] the vé cirujano entré en first notary's. [Going out] of the pastry-cook's primer escribano al salir pastelero [I met] Fabricius. [He took refuge] at the goencontré con se refugió en vernor's.

Promiscuous Exercises.

Among the Egyptians the lion was an emblem of entre leon era A simbolo vigilance. Ignorance is one of the consequences of the vigilancia ignorancia es una consecuencia corruption of nature. Justice and clemency are the _____ naturaleza justicia clemencia son support of thrones. Lot retired to the borders of Jordan. apoyo — se retiró orilla _____

In Turkey the scymitar is the interpreter of the Alcoran. cimitarra es intérprete _____

The English are the avengers of Spain. History, geo-Ingles son vengador España historia geography, and mathematics, are (2) necessary (1) sciences. grafía matemática son necesarias

[Let us be] frugal without covetousness, and liberal seamos frugales avaricia liberales with moderation. [Let us accompany him] to Calvary. _____ acompañémosle á Calvario Haughtiness, presumption, and deceit, commonly altivez presuncion engaño de ordinario eat and sleep with riches. [We paid] the coachman comen duermen riqueza pagamos cochero

[at the rate] of tenpence per mile. Señora Leonarda, á razon _____ milla _____ said one of the horsemen, [look at] this [young man]. dijo uno caballero mire este mozo

[Let us prefer] virtue to interest. Pythagoras taught preferamos interes Pitágoras enseñó the immortality of the soul. Painters express with co-immortalidad alma pintor expresan colours the passions, which poets express with words. lor pasion que poeta m. voz [Ever since] his death Señora Leonarda had served the despues de su habia servido nectar to those (2) infernal (1) gods. The mines of _____ aquellos infernales mina

Peru produce gold, silver, and diamonds. We heard _____ producen diamante oimos some voices in the street. Man's life is full of troubles. calle f. vida esta llena trabajo

Sovereigns [seldom] read the truth, unless when they soberano rara vez leen verdad sino Quando A read the maxims of the Gospel, or the axioms of maxima evangelio ó axioma m.

Euclides. Charles the Fourth's abdication took place ————— tuvo efecto in the eyes of France. King William and Queen Mary á ascended the throne of England on the thirteenth of subieron á

February one thousand six hundred and eighty-nine.

Febrero Λ mil seis cientos Λ

Doctor Thornton wrote on botany. The king of En————— escribió sobre botánica gland sent an ambassador to the Emperor of China. envió un embajador

Prudence, justice, fortitude, and temperance, are the prudencia, justicia, fortaleza, templanza son four (2) cardinal (1) virtues. Injuries and affronts are cuatro cardinales injuria afrenta son the keys to the heart. Hypocrites are objects of God's llave f. hipócrita son objeto hatred, and of men's indignation. The road to abhorrecimiento camino heaven is full of thorns. Abraham obeyed the cielo está lleno abrojos Abraham obedeció á Lord's voice. [Behold him] who has been your aquí teneis á aquel que ha sido vuestro shield in war and in peace, the honour of nature, and escudo guerra paz honra the glory of the (2) Roman (1) nation. We experigloria Romana experienced the same terror which we had inspired in the mentamos mismo — que Λ habíamos inspirado house of Camila.

OF ADJECTIVES.

Their Feminine Termination.

Rule 18. Adjectives which end in o, an, or on, take an a for a feminine termination. Those ending otherwise are common to both genders ; as, El muchacho holgazán, the idle boy ; la muchacha holgazana, the idle girl; el dia or la hora feliz, the happy day or hour.

The mistress was sly and the maid idle. The áma era socarron criada haragan life everlasting is desirable. The death of the [righteous perdurable es apetecible justo man] is a happy death. Experience is fatal to many.
es una feliz experiencia es — mucho The grace of God is efficacious. Charity is a (2) humble gracia eficaz una humilde (1) virtue.

Note a.—The hour of death is uncertain. Nature hora incierto never is unemployed. The victory obtained by Cæsar nunca está ocioso victoria lograda por — in the plains of Pharsalia was baneful to his country, llanada Farsalia fué destructivo su patria pernicious to the Romans, and dismal to human pernicioso Romano funesto humano nature. naturaleza

Note b.—(2) Scotch (1) music is soft and harmo-Escoces es suave armonious. The fándango is a (2) Spanish (1) dance. nioso — una Español danza [Bull-feasts] are an (2) Andalusian (1) diversion. Her fiestas de toros son una Andaluz — su Saxon Majesty came in a (2) Danish (1) vessel.
Saxón magestad vino una Dinamarques embarcacion

Note c.—The English cloths are woven with a paño estan tejidos una mixture of Spanish wool. The ship's cargo consisted mezcla lana navio cargazon consistia of Dutch cheese, Italian silk, Portuguese wine, Amerien queso can wheat, and Russian tallow.
trigo cebo

Note d.—The Turkish ambassador dined yesterday comió

with the Russian consul, and the American plenipo-——— plenipo-tentiary.
tenciario

Plural of Adjectives.

Rule 19. The plural of adjectives is formed like the plural of substantives; as santo, santos, Saxón, Saxónes, Andaluz, Andaluces. See Rules 2 and 3.

The last division of French troops [went out] yester-último ——— Frances tropa salió day on board English vessels, and the English troops á bordo de Ingles buque entered, accompanied by two Saxon regiments. The entraron acompañadas de Saxón regimiento author refutes the artful objections of his sophistical refuta artificioso objeccion sus sofisticos antagonists, and [endeavours to] dispel the ridiculous antagonista m. se empeña en desvanecer ridículo doubts of pusillanimous believers. duda pusilánime creyente

Place of Adjectives.

Rule 20. Adjectives, and participles used ad-jectively, are generally placed after their nouns; as—Operaciones difíciles, difficult operations; ge-nerales vencidos, conquered generals; soldados heridos, wounded soldiers.

The divine perfections are interesting to man. divino perfeccion son interesante Ignorant men are generally obstinate. Delicious viands ignorante son generalmente pertinax delicioso vianda are poisoned pleasures. Premature old age is the fruit son emponzoñado gusto anticipado vejez f. es A of a luxurious life.
una lujurioso

Note a.—Adjectives are generally prefixed in the three following instances: 1st, When they denote the inherent property of the subject; as, sobre el duro mármol, upon the hard marble. 2d, When used as epithets; as, el ambicioso Alejandro, the ambitious Alexander. 3d, When they are accented on the antepenult; as, un intrépido jefe, an intrepid chief: hence all superlatives in ísimo are generally prefixed; as, atrocísima maldad, atrocious wickedness.

Exercise.—The experienced pilot perceived [from afar] the towering summits of the mountains of Leucata. lejos empinado cima monte The mild zephyrs, more powerful than the burning dulce zéfiro mas poderoso que ardiente beams of the sun, preserved a grateful coolness. The rayo conservaban grato frescura tame oxen and the timid sheep quitted the abundant manso buey tímido oveja dejaban abundoso pastures. A [very happy] death is the fruit of a pasto dichosísimo es fruto very pious life.
piadosísima

Note b.—The bride was so ugly that it gave little novia era tan feo que a daba poco pleasure [to look at her]. Ambition augments the many gusto el mirarla ambicion aumenta mucho troubles, and lessens the few pleasures, which [are pena disminuye poco placer que se found] in the world.
hallan

Note c.—[I met] sometimes with certain Scotch encontrábame alguno vez f. cierto Escoces figures. [He approached] me with a certain cheerful figura acercóse á mi A alegre and hasty air. The silence and obstinacy of the apresurado aire silencio obstinacion criminal were evident proofs of his crime. reo eran cierto prueba su delito

Note d.—Cardinal numbers, when not used as ordinal numbers, are prefixed; as, doce dias, twelve days; el dia doce, the twelfth day.

Exercise.—Of two evils [we ought] to choose the least. The lunar cycle is a period of nineteen solar years, or of nineteen lunar years and seven intercalary months. The forty-second chapter contains forty-two paragraphs.
mal debemos a elegir menor lunar ciclo es un periodo solar año o intercalar mes capítulo contiene párrafo.

Note e.—The goddess and the nymphs held their eyes fixed on the young Telemachus, so interesting (2) was to (1) them his history. The pleasures of life are very few.
 How certain were her suspicions! The pilot was not much experienced. When the laws are many [they occasion] confusion. diosa ninfa tenían los ojo fijo interesante era A les su historia placer son muy cuán cierto fueron sus sospecha era muy Cuando son causan confusion

Note f.—Todo should precede a noun singular; as, todo hombre, every man; toda la vida de un Cristiano, all the life of a Christian: but it may follow a noun plural, which is not the antecedent of a relative; as, todos los hombres, or los hombres todos, son mortales, all men are mortal; todas las riquezas que tenían, all the riches which they had.—N. B. When the substantive is in the plural, it requires the article, which must, in all cases, immediately precede the noun.

Exercise.—Self-love is the greatest of all flatterers.
 God is the maker of all things. Charity is the greatest of all Christian virtues. Ingratitude is the greatest of all vices. All happiness is a gift of the (2) divine (1) hand.
 All the [reward he merits] is not great. amor propio es mayor todo adulator es hacedor cosa caridad Cristiana ingratitud dicha un don divino mano recompensa que merece es grande

Agreement of Adjectives.

Rule 21. An adjective agrees with its noun in gender, number, and case; as—Argumento ridiculo, ridiculous argument; conclusiones falsas, false conclusions.

Exception. Adjectives are always put in the masculine when they qualify the noun nada.

A sublime style does not consist in a diction loaded un——— estilo Δ consiste una diction cargado with useless epithets, pompous phrases, and high-de ocioso epiteto pomposo frase f. alli- sounding words. [At the end] of five or six years I sonante palabra al cabo understood a little the Greek authors, and [sufficiently entendia un poco Griego suficientemente well] the Latin poets. The love of life and the fear of Latino poeta amor temor death are natural to men. Nothing is so contagious as son natural nada es contagioso como example. Nothing is so impetuous as the desires of selfejemplo impetuoso deseo love, nor so secret as its designs. ni secreto sus designio

Rule 22. Two or more nouns in the singular require their adjective in the plural; and in the masculine termination if they differ in gender; as—El palacio y el templo magníficos, the magnificent palace and temple; la iglesia y el hospital edificados por el, the church and hospital erected by him.

Pride and misery come frequently united. Health orgullo miseria vienen frecüentemente junto salud and power are uncertain and perishable; but glory and poder son incierto perecedero pero gloria virtue are certain, solid, and durable. The husband and cierto sólido ————— marido wife buried, the son and daughter ill, and the aunt muger enterrado hijo hija enfermo tia and niece [given over], this was the sad condition of sobrina desauciato esta era triste ——— that unhappy family.

aquella desdichado

Note a.—An adjective prefixed to two nouns singular agrees, generally, with the nearest; as, the intrepid valour and resistance of the patriots, el intrépido valor y resistencia de los patriotas.

Exercise.—The wonderful prudence and judgement maravilloso prudencia tino manifested in the last battle. The supreme authority manifestado último batalla supremo autoridad and power with which he governs. poder que el gobierna

Rule 23. An adjective agrees with the nearest of two or more plural nouns, which differ in gender; as—los efectos y las riquezas preciosas, las riquezas y efectos preciosos, the invaluable riches and effects.

The knowledge of (3) political (1) frauds and conocimiento politico fraude (2) connivances is necessary [to him that governs]. The connivencia es al que gobierna army consisted of conscripts from the (3) Italian (1) re-ejercito consistia en conscripto Italiano republics and (2) estates. The mistaken philosopher [had publica estado engañado filósofo recourse] to (3) ridiculous (1) arguments and (2) objec-recurria ridiculo argumento objections. The many assemblies and conventicles of the cion asamblea conventiculo nonconformists alarmed the Gallican church. nonconformista m. asustaron á Galicano iglesia.

Note b.—His majesty was resolved; but [has been] su majestad estaba resuelto pero se ha visto compelled to abandon the project. His holiness has precisado á abandonar proyecto santidad ha been deprived of his friends, and his highness is sido privado sus amigo alteza está banished. His excellency has been pleased to grant desterrado excelencia ha sido servido de conceder that their lordships be buried in the Chapel Royal. que sus señoría sean enterrado real.

Note c.—Then the widows [saw themselves] abanentonces viuda se vieron aban- doned, and the orphans [found themselves] unprodonado huérfano se hallaron desam- tected; the Romans being then no more than the parado siendo no mas que shadow of themselves. Self-love makes man an idolater sombra si mismo. hace á Δ idólatra of himself.
si mismo

Observation.—The arrival of the (2) French and llegada Frances
 (3) Russian (1) commissioners has given rise to many Ruso comisionado ha dado origen rumours. The Iliad and the Eneid are the pictures of rumor Iliada Eneida son pintura the (2) Greek and (3) Roman (1) nations.

Rule 24. Primero, tercero, postrero, uno, al- guno, ninguno, bueno, and malo, lose the o in the singular; as, el primer hombre, the first man; el postrer dia, the last day; ningun juez, no judge; un buen poeta, a good poet; un mal lector, a bad reader.

Troubles and afflictions are the inheritance which pena afliccion son herencia que our first parent (2) left (1) us. Hope (2) connuestro primero padre dejo nos esperanza con- ducts (1) us to the end of life through an agreeable duce fin vida por uno agradable road. The first of God's commandments is that camino mandamiento es que [we should love him]. For thy journey [I will give le amemos para tu viage te daré thee] some money. Laws are useless in a bad go-alguno dinero ley son inutil uno malo government.

bierno

Note a.—[He rose again] on the third day [according resucitó A tercero segun to] the scriptures. William the Third was the third escritura fué king of England after the commonwealth. despues de república

Note b.—[They all agreed that I was worth] a convinieron todos en que valia A hundred times more than my predecessor. They lost ciento vez mas que mi predecesor perdieron a hundred frigates, and one ship of a hundred and twelve A fregata uno navio A doce guns.
cañon

Note c.—Saint Paul is called the Apostle of the Santo Pablo es llamado Apóstol Gentiles. The bridegroom lived in the parish of Saint Gentil novio vivia parroquia George, and the bride in that of Saint Mary, but [they Jorge novia la pero were married] in the church of Saint Dominic in the se casaron Domingo parish of Saint Thomas.
Tomas

Note d.—I manifested a great desire to [accompany mostre A grande deseo de acompañarthem]. There was a great entertainment. His great los hubo uno convite su anxiety was caused by his great love. In this manner ansia era causado por amor de esta manera I obtained a great reputation [for wisdom] in all the logré fama de sabio city.
ciudad

Note e.—A friend cannot [be discovered] in prosperity, nor an enemy concealed in adversity. [He carried me] to a cellar, where I saw an infinity of bottles.

amigo puede descubrirse prosperidad ni enemigo ocultarse adversidad llevome bodega donde vi infinidad botellas

Note f.—The dangerous state of the patient did not allow any delay. [You run not] any risk (2) said (3) he to (1) them. [There is no] law so violated as that which (2) commands (1) us to forgive injuries. We saw no living object in those mountains.

peligroso enfermo A permitia tardanza no correis riesgo dixo el A les no hay tan violado como lá que enseña nos á perdonar vimos viviente objeto aquellos montes

Rule 25. Adjectives used as substantives are preceded by the neuter article lo, if we can place the words that which, or what, before the adjective in English; and by the plural of the definite article, agreeing with the noun understood, if those which can be placed before the English adjective; as—Lo amargo, the bitter, or that which is bitter; los altos, the tall, or those which are tall.

Youth has not foresight of the future, experience of the past, nor moderation to [conduct itself] in the present. If God tolerates the unbelieving, we ought to suffer them. The ambitious sacrifice [every thing] to fortune. Longinus wrote on the sublime.

juventud tiene no prevision futuro experiencia pasado ni ————— para conducirse presente si tolera incredulo nosotros debemos A sufrir los ambicioso sacrifican todo fortuna Longino escribió sobre

The idle are useless to society. The marvellous always surprises. The Catholic religion is not like the [false ones] which consist in an exterior worship.

perezoso son inútil sociedad maravilloso siempre sorprende Catolico ————— es no como falso que consisten ————— culto

On the use of the numeral adjective uno, as a substitute for the English indefinite article, see Observation, Grammar, page 100.

1. Fortune is a capricious deity. Calypso saw a es caprichoso deidad ——— vió rudder and a mast, the remnants of a vessel which timon mastil resto navio que [had just been wrecked]. [He that] loses a friend loses acababa de naufragar quien pierde amigo a defender.
defensor

2. A solitary life has no attractions for an ambitious solitaria tiene no atractivo para man. A (2) good (1) man never can be miserable, nunca puede ser desdichado nor a (2) wicked (1) man happy. A man without vir-malo dichoso tue (2) envies (1) it in others. An obedient wife comenvidia la otros obediente manmands her husband.
da á su

4. Apelles was a painter, Cicero an orator, and Apeles era pintor orador Virgil a poet. An astronomer or an anatomist (2) can Virgilio astrónomo anatómico puede (1) not be an atheist. no ser ateista

5. The best coffee comes from Mocha, a town of mejor café viene A ciudad Arabia Felix. Newton, an English philosopher, was ——— dichoso ——— fué buried in Westminster Abbey, an honour granted to abadia honra consedido few.
poco

6. At last after having eaten and drunk, he wished en fin despues de haber comido bebido A quiso to put an end to the farce. We made a beginning to A poner fin comedia A dimos principio a long conversation on the subject. I have not had an largo ————— asunto Λ he no tenido opportunity of [speaking to him]. [Do not make] a ocasion hablarle no hagas noise. Have a care.

ten cuidado

7. A treatise on the longitude. An exposition of tratado longitud ————— the Christian doctrine. A sketch of the manners of the Cristiano doctrina bosquejo costumbre Indians.
Indio

8. Cleopatra had two pearls, and each [was worth] ————— tenia perla cada una valia a million. Argus had a hundred eyes. No man ever millon Argo jamás lived a thousand years. The city of Babylon had a vivió mil ciudad Babilonia hundred gates.
puerta

9. A (2) small (1) man of three feet and a half of pequeño medio stature. They had travelled seven miles and a half. estatura Λ habian caminado media It is a year and a half since his father died, and (2) left hace que su murió dexó (1) him a million and a half a year. le

10. He was a bachelor from Alcala, an excellent Λ era bachiller ————— excelente master for a [gentleman's son!] What a droll maestro para hijo de familia que gracioso idea! What a day of affliction for that unhappy ————— para aquella mother! [Every thing] has prospered in his hands. todo ha prosperado sus mano What a blessing from heaven! A famous project! bendicion cielo grande proyecto replied Fabricius.
repuso Fabricio

Promiscuous Exercises.

A just king ought to sacrifice himself to the innumejusto debe sacrificarse rable cares which are annexed to government. The cuidado que estan annexo gobierno German tongue is more difficult than the English tongue.
Aleman lengua es mas dificultoso que Ingles Young men ought always to speak with much discretion.
joven A deben siempre A hablar Love thy God above all things. The famous ball and ama á tu sobre todo cosa famoso bayle supper which was given on the occasion. No man cena que se dio en ninguno can be truly happy till after the last puede ser verdaderamente feliz hasta despues de postrero day of his life. The idle are useless to society. día m. su vida ocioso son inútil sociedad Mr. Burke wrote not only on the sublime, but on Señor Burke escribió no solo sobre sino the beautiful. His work is entitled An Abridgement hermoso su obra se intitulaba Compendio of Sacred History. The many assemblies and conven-Sagrado Historia asamblea conventicles (2) alarmed (1) them. The Centurion was the ticulo asustaron los era captain of a company of a hundred men. Atrocious crimes capitan compañía ciento atroz crimen deserve severe punishments. French wines [paid duty] merecen severo castigo adeudaban at the rate of fifty pounds a butt. He was seated on an A estaba en (2) easy (1) chair. Youth is presumptuous. The poltron silla juventud es presuntuoso rustic simplicity of Calypso's grotto. Valour in certain rústico simplicidad gruta valor cierto circumstances is vice's sword, and virtue's shield. The circunstancia es vicio espada virtud escudo Spanish deputies were presented to the king by the Por-diputado fueron presentado por tuguese ambassador.
embaxador

COMPARATIVES.

Rule 26. Adjectives are compared with the adverbs mas, more; ménos, less; and tan, so or as: example, Mas rico, richer; ménos vano, less vain; tan sabio, so or as wise.

Josaphat was more pious and more zealous. If the ——— fué piadoso zeloso adventure [did not make me] wiser, [at least] it lance no me hizo sabio a lo menos Δ (2) made (1) me more circumspect. We saw innocence hizo me circunspecto Δ vimos inocencia less sheltered, and crime more protected. amparado crimen protegido

Note a.—Many are the imaginary troubles of man, son imaginaria pena but the [real ones] are not so many. If men were pero verdadero son no si hombres fueran not so ambitious [they would not have] so many no no tendrian enemies.
enemigo

Rule 27. Than after comparatives in English is que in Spanish, unless it precedes the pronoun what, expressed or understood, and then it is de; as—Mas rico que yo, richer than I; Mas de lo que pensaron, more than they [or than what they] thought.

Wisdom and modesty [do not obtain] less the esteem sabiduria modestia no se grangean estimacion of men, than pride and folly their contempt. The locura su menosprecio marquis, said Laura, is a generous man, who [will do] marques dixo — es generoso que hará more than he has promised. His fortunate cures were ha prometido sus afortunado cura fueron extolled more than they deserved. It is better to be celebrado Δ merecian mas vale Δ ser poor than ignorant, because the sciences are more prepobre ignorante por que son precious than riches.

cioso

Note a.—Some men are not more than what they alguno son no lo que Δ appear; but others appear more than what they are.
parecen pero otro Those who have not more than what they want, are los que tienen no necesitan not truly poor.
verdaderamente pobre

Note b.—The consumption of wheat in London is consumo trigo Londres es more than five millions and ninety thousand bushels a fanega year. Saturn is more than twenty-nine years in making Saturno echa en hacer its revolution; but Mercury is not more than eighty-su ————— pero Mercurio seven days. We travelled more than half a league.
\Delta caminamos legua

Rule 28. As after comparatives is como: example,—Tan hermosa como vana, as beautiful as vain; tanto leo como escribo, I read as much as I write.

It is as easy to do good as to do evil. Nothing \Delta fácil \Delta hacer bien \Delta mal nada delights so much as the works of nature. Riches are deleita obra naturaleza riqueza son not so valuable as virtue, yet men value riches no apreciable sin embargo estiman more than virtue. Commerce is as useful as war is comercio útil destructive.
destrutivo

Note a.—[I was sorry] to leave Fenicia and Dorothea, sentí \Delta dexar á ————— whom I loved as much as one woman is capable of á quienes Δ amaba es capaz loving another. Liars are as dangerous as contempamar á otra embustero son peligroso despretible. [Do not covet] riches, they are as troublesome ciable no codicies Δ incomodo as dangerous.

Note b.—The more we love an object, the nearer Δ amamos objeto próximo we are to hate it. The more they tormented Δ estamos á aborrecerle martirizaban á the Christians, the more their number increased. The Cristiano su numero crecia more we observe a hive of bees, the more won-Δ observamos colmena abeja marav- ders we discover.
villa Δ descubrimos

Note c.—The world is so full of temptations as to mundo esta lleno tentacion require our constant vigilance. So great [will be] *requerir * nuestra constante vigilancia* será their joy as (2) to make (1) them desire that it never su gozo hacer † les desear que Δ nunca [may have] an end. So vigorous was the resistance, as tenga fin vigoroso fué resistencia to oblige the besiegers to abandon the siege. obligar ‡ á sitiador á abandonar sitio

Note d.—If there be two comparatives, differently formed, the conjunction should correspond with the last; as, sus calles estan tan bien ó mejor empedradas que las nuestras, their streets are as well or better paved than ours; sus navios son mas fuertes ó á lo menos tan fuertes como los nuestros, their ships are stronger, or at least as strong as ours.

* See Irregular Verbs, Grammar, page 157.

† Ibid. page 162.

‡ See View of the Regular Terminations, Grammar, page 142.

War is as destructive, and often more destructive guerra es destructivo amenudo than the plague. Kings are sometimes wiser, and often peste son sabio as wise as their ministers.
sus ministro

SUPERLATIVES.

Rule 29. English superlatives ending in est or formed by most are rendered by prefixing the definite article to the Spanish comparative; as—El mas sabio, the wisest; la mas ingrata, the most ungrateful.

King Alphonsus put an end to one of the happiest and Alfonso dió dichoso longest reigns that Spain had seen. Self-love is largo reynado habia visto more artful than the most artful of men. Wisdom is artificioso the most precious of all gifts. Cicero was the most precioso fue eloquent of all the Roman orators. eloquiente orador

Note a.—We saw accomplished (1) the (3) most A vimos consumado impolitic and most detestable (2) plan which the vilest impolitico ————— que vil of perfidies could suggest. The opinions of the most perfidia pudo sugerir opinion enlightened understandings are sometimes errors, and ilustrado entendimiento son error the most prudent actions pass sometimes for faults. Self-prudente accion pasan por yerros love is the most formidable enemy of man.

Note b.—Most, when followed by a singular noun, is translated la mayor parte; as, most of the army, la mayor parte del exercito; but if the noun be in the plural, most may also be translated mas, with the corresponding article ; as, most of the soldiers, la mayor parte, or los mas, de los soldados ; most causes, la mayor parte, or las mas, de las causas.

Exercise.—Most rhetoricians have adopted the retorico han adoptado system of Cicero and Quintilian. Rest is agreeable sistema m. descanso es agradable to most men. The body of man is [externally] more cuerpo es en el exterior delicate than that of most animals. Most women emdelicado el animal muger employ most of their youth in trifles. plean su juventud friolera

Note c.—The said innkeeper was the greatest babblers tal mesonero era mayor in all Asturias. He was not the most graceful nor the todo Asturias ayroso most agreeable figure in the world. agradable figura

Rule 30. Superlatives which in English are made with very, are formed in Spanish by prefixing muy to the adjective, or by giving to it the termination ísimo ; as—Muy habil, or habilísimo, very clever ; muy facil, or facilísimo, very easy.

A challenge was the result of that very mean desafio fué resulta aquella ruin action. We traversed those very fruitful fields, and ——— atravesamos aquellos fertil campo arrived at last at their very useful manufactory. llegamos al fin su fábrica

Note a.—My parents (3) could (1) not (4) have padre podian no haber (5) placed (2) me in better hands. Solomon was a very puesto me bueno mano f. — fue wise king. Job was a very rich and a very pious prince. sabio — fue rico A virtuoso Hercules was very strong. The Alps are very high ——— fué fuerte Alpe son alto mountains. [They were] reduced to the lowest misery.

monte estaban reducido baxo miseria

His family was [very happy] although [very poor.]

su familia era feliz aunque pobre

Note c.—He was more king of his kingdom than of su reyno his palace. He was a great enemy to pomp, and no less palacio era

a friend to temperance.

Government of Adjectives.

Rule 31. Adjectives require generally de before their regimen, if it be part of the noun with which they agree; as, Un cuchillo boto de punta, a knife blunt at the point; un hombre baxo de cuerpo, a man low in stature.

He was meek and lowly in heart. The dresses of his A era humilde manso corazon vestido sus soldiers (2) made (1) them appear long in the body and soldado hacian les parecer largo A cuerpo short in the legs. Nothing less than the patience of Job corto A pierna nada paciencia is requisite to teach those who are hard of under-es necesario para enseñar á los que son duro entenstanding.
dimiento

Rule 32. Adjectives govern their regimen with en, if it denote that wherein the quality of the adjective is conspicuous; as, Un hombre constante en sus devociones, y devoto en sus oraciones, a man constant in his devotions, and devout in his prayers.

Be diligent in thy business, and [every thing] [will sé diligente tus negocios todo prosper] in thy hands. What is (3) man (1) of prosperará mano que es

(2) himself, but a soul in [every thing] miserable ; in si sino un alma todo his counsels blind ; in his works vain ; in his appetites sus consejo ciego obra vano apetito filthy ; in his desires wild ; and, finally, in all his sucio deseo desvariado finalmente todo things little, and only in his estimation great. cosa pequeño solamente grande

Note a.—His civility and his genius inexhaustible, in su civilidad ingenio inagotable inventing ways to [please me], contributed to my ruin, inventar medio de complacerme contribuyeron á mi perdida and [I thought myself] fortunate in having deposited my me creia feliz haber depositado trust in a person of so much integrity. confianza sujeto integridad

Rule 33. If the regimen of the adjective be the noun to which the quality of the adjective is directed, it is generally preceded by á : as, La tirania es aborrecible á las gentes, tyranny is hateful to the people.

Nothing is so pleasing to the mind as the light of es agradable espiritu lux f. truth. The sacrifices of Abel were agreeable to the verdad sacrificio fueron Lord. His blood [will be] very grateful to the shade su sangref. será grato sombra of that hero. [He showed himself] very thankful for aquel heroe se mostró agradecido what we had done for him. The dog is faithful to lo que á habiamos hecho por el perro es fiel man.

Rule 34. If the noun which forms the regimen be also what produces the quality implied in the adjective, it is generally governed with de ; as, Elta estaba palida de miedo, she was pale with fear ; abochornado de la pregunta, hurt at the question.

Cain, envious of the prosperity of Abel, (2) killed — envidioso mató
 (1) him. He remained astonished at her beauty. The le Λ quedo admirado su hermosura secretary showed himself [something] hurt at these secretario algo resentido estas expressions. [Seldom] are men satisfied with their expresiones rara vez están su condition.

Note a.—She [could not reply] so hurt was Ella no pudo replicar abochornado estaba she at seeing their conduct. Men act not only as if Λ ver su conducta obran no solamente si they were afraid of being virtuous, but ashamed of Λ estuvieran temeroso ser virtuoso mas avergonzado [appearing so.]
parecerlo

Rule 35. Numeral adjectives govern with the preposition de a noun of dimension; as, Treinta pies de alto, thirty feet high; seis pulgadas de grueso, six inches thick.

London-bridge is nine hundred feet in length, forty puente tiene largo in height, and seventy-three in width. To commemorate the fire of London, the inhabitants erected a alto ancho para conme- morar incendio habitante edificaron monument of two hundred feet in height. Noah built monumento pie alto Noé hizo an ark of three hundred cubits in length, fifty in breadth, arca codo largo ancho and thirty in height.

Note b.—The famous mine of Potosi is more than five famoso mina — es hundred feet in depth. The walls of Babylon pies profundo muralla Babilonia were two hundred feet high, and fifty broad. What eran alto ancho que separates the crew of a vessel from death, except a separa á tripulacion navio muerte f. sino plank very few inches thick? tabla poco pulgada grueso

Rule 36. Adjectives denoting plenty or scarcity, care or negligence, govern their regimen with de; as, Un jarro lleno de agua, a jug full of water; un kombre falto de juicio, a man void of reason; un hombre cuidadoso de su dinero, a man careful of his money.

His discourses are always clear of superfluous words. sus discurso estan siempre limpio superfluo palabra An orator ought to avoid all the words which are foreign debe á evitar que son ageno to the purpose. They came loaded with booty. The proposito á venian cargado botin world is a house full of smoke [in which nothing can be lleno humo en la que nada se puede seen]. Solomon was endowed with wisdom, and ver ———— fué dotado sabiduria Abraham with faith.
Abrahan fé.

Note a.—Cardinal Richelieu was fertile in insidious cardenal ———— era fertil insidioso expedients.
expediente

Rule 37. Adjectives denoting desire or disdain, knowledge or ignorance, capacity or incapacity, worthiness or unworthiness, innocence or guilt, require also de before their regimen; as, Deseoso de la vida, desirous of life; incierto de las consecuen- cias, uncertain of the consequences; digno de una corona, worthy of a crown; reo de muerte, guilty of death.

I [shall not be responsible] for the consequences. no seré responsable resulta

Most of our actions are more deserving son digno vituperio than praise. Men [would be] less desirous of life [were they] alabanza serian deseoso si estuvieran certain of a happy death. cierto feliz muerte f.

Note a.—Their general was incapable to direct the su ————— era incapaz dirigir movements. Thou art worthy to be our king. movimiento tu eres digno ser nuestro Illustrious Cretans, I am not worthy to [command you.] ilustre Cretense yo soy no digno mandaros

Rule 38. Numeral and ordinal adjectives, superlatives, relatives, interrogatives, and indefinites, as well as nouns used partitively, require also their regimen with de; as, El primero de los dos, the first of the two; qualquiera de las hijas, any one of the daughters; algunos de los oyentes, some of the hearers.

One of the thieves who had been a surgeon examined the wounds. Three of the most formidable enemies with which man is surrounded, are the world, the devil, and the flesh. There were two roads, but I knew not which of the two [I was to take.] ladron que habia sido cirujano reconocido herida ————— enemigo de que esta rodeado son demonio carne f. habia camino pero no sabia qual habia de tomar

Rule 39. Adjectives denoting fitness or unfitness govern their regimen with para; as, Apto para el empleo, fit for the employment; impropio para su edad, improper for his age.

No one is fit for friendship who is not endowed with virtue. These mean artifices are insufficient ninguno es propio amistad que esta no dotado virtud estos mezquino artificio son insuficiente to impart any progress to the concerted plan. The para dar alguno progreso concertado — — protection of the arts and sciences is indispensable to the ————— es —————

 prosperity of a kingdom.

Note a.—The ox is not so adequate as the horse to carry burdens. The longest reign is short to remedy the errors committed at the beginning.

yerro cometido á principio

Note b.— True glory is incompatible with inhu-verdadero es ————— inhumanity.
manidad

Rule 40. Adjectives denoting facility or difficulty require á before their regimen; as, Increíble á muchos, incredible to many; flexible á la razon, yielding to reason.

This secret [remained] impenetrable to all my compa-este secreto se quedó ————— mis compa- nions. The creditors only heard excuses, they were acreedor solo escucharon excusas Λ eran men inaccessible to pity. [We saw ourselves] compelled inaccesible piedad nos vimos obligado to the greatest humiliations. humillacion

Note a.—The meanness of thy birth, said the baxeza tu nacimiento dixo count, is an obstacle very easy to [be overcome]. The conde es impedimento facil superarse diseases of children are difficult to cure. enfermedad dificil curar

Note b.—See here the son of a king reduced to solicit ved aquí al reducido solicitar slavery. [He saw himself] compelled to [give up,] servidumbre se vió precisado rendirse fearing some accident. temiendo alguno accidente

Rule 41. Adjectives denoting profit or disprofit, likeness or unlikeness, require á before their regimen; as, Provechoso á la salud, advantageous to health; semejante á su padre, like his father.

His heart was superior to the dangers that (2) threatened (1) him. I intend to marry thee to a lady whose nobility is equal to [mine]. An education entirely opposite to that of Señor Rolando, produced in me the same effect. The shadow is the daughter of the sun and of light, but a daughter which is not like her parents.

corazon era ————— peligro que amena-zaban le á pienso á casar te con dama cuya nobleza es igual la mia ————— enteramente contrario la ————— produjo mi mismo efecto sombra lux f. que es no semejante sus padre

Rule 42. Adjectives denoting proximity generally govern their regimen with á; as, Cercano á la muerte, approaching death; junto á la casa, adjoining the house.

He feared that a monarchy so contiguous to that of Asturias [would be] a source of many wars. Sometimes [we become] slaves, wishing to avoid the evils annexed to war.

á temia que monarquia vecino la — seria manantial alguno vez f. nos hacemos esclavo queriendo á evitar mal anexo guerra

Note a.—He relieved numerous families who were ready to perish. I am ready to give thee the half.

á socorrio á numeroso familia que estaban próximo perecer á estoy pronto dar te mitad

Rule 43. Adjectives denoting distance have generally de before their regimen; as, Distante de la corte, distant from court.

The heart of man ought always to be unattached to debe siempre a estar desprendido all human grandeur. Neither the king nor the subject humano grandeza ni ni vasallo lives independent of the law. In the best state of viven independiente health [we are not] so far from death as [we think.] salud no estamos lejos nos imaginamos

Note a.—The world, far from rewarding virtue, premiar (2) oppresses (1) it frequently. opprime la con frecuencia

Rule 44. Adjectives denoting behaviour govern generally with con the noun to which it is directed; as, Ingrato con los amigos, ungrateful to his friends.

Adrastus king of the Daunians was impious towards Adrasto Danienses fué impio the gods and deceitful towards men. Scipio Africanus dios perfido Scipion Africano was respectful to his mother, affable to his friends, fué respetuoso su afable amigo kind to his domestics, and attentive to all. bondadoso domestico atento todo

Promiscuous Exercises.

Impiety is as fatal to a state as to religion. The impiedad es fatal estado sciences (2) were (1) not then so much cultivated, ciencia estaban entonces a cultivado nor riches so little esteemed. Most animals have more ni riqueza poco apreciado animal tienen agility than man. The shorter the day is the longer is agilidad corto es largo the night. The most fortunate wars are the greatest noche f. afortunado guerra son scourge of nations. My mother (2) was (1) not milder azote — mi madre era no dulce than her husband. It seemed that the plague had su marido Λ parecia que peste f. habia entered Valladolid, so many were the funerals. I [cntrado en] _____ eran entierro chose the city of Valencia, because its climate is escogí ciudad _____ porque su temple es one of the mildest in Spain. A glorious death is pre-benigno glorioso es preferable to a shameful life. The prince who is faithful ferible vergonzoso que es fiel to his allies [will be] beloved, not feared by them. sus aliado será amado no temido de ellos He advanced to [succour them] almost certain of the avanzó á socorrer los casi cierto victory. The ox is suited to the culture of the buey es proporcionado cultivo ground. Fortune is capricious and inconstant in war. tierra es caprichoso é inconstante

PERSONAL PRONOUNS*.

Place of the Pronouns.

Rule 45. The subject or nominative case precedes verbs which are not in the imperative, nor used interrogatively; as, Tú hablas, thou speakest; vengan ellos, let them come; ¿viene ella? is she coming?

When he said I am, they [went back] and fell quando dixo retrocedieron cayeron on the ground. All the affections which we rule are en Λ tierra afecto que regimos son lawful. Thou, he, and she will go. They will not legitimo ireis quieren no hear his voice †. Why (2) has she accused (1) him oir su voz porque ha ella acusado le unjustly? Wilt thou not pardon her this time? injustamente quieres perdonar la esta vez

* See Grammar, page 111.

† See Observation on Verbs used interrogatively and negatively, Grammar, page 73.

Note a.—I am the Lord thy God, who [has brought thee out] of the land of Egypt. The daughter and the nieces were in the same room; she played on the guitar, and they danced country-dances.

soy tu que te ha sacado tierra Egipto hija sobrina estaban mismo quarto tocaba guitarra baylaban contra-danza

Note b.—Darina bewailed her misfortunes, her sons [manifesting themselves] insensible. Never, perhaps, shall I pass (3) so (4) terrible (1) a (2) night! Oh, human life, exclaimed she, how replete art thou with capricious adventures! At sight of the fresh dish, the eyes of the parasite sparkled with joy.

lloraba sus desgracia sus hijo mostrandose nunca quiza pasaré exclamó quan lleno estas caprichoso aventura á vista nuevo plato ojo parasito brillaron de alegria

Note c.—It is difficult to define love. Is it possible! [said I to myself]. It is easier to avoid an injury than to revenge it afterwards.

es difícil definir amor es posible me decia yo á mí mismo es fácil evitar injuria vengarla la despues

Rule 46. The objective case, when governed by the verb, is placed after infinitives, imperatives, and gerunds, and joined to them; as, amarla, to love her; amemosla, let us love her; amandola, loving her; haviendola amado, having loved her.

[We must think] of helping thee, Gil Blas; I am resolved to send thee to Salamanca. The judge hearing her, and having observed her attentively. Forgive them, for they know not what they do.

hemos menester pensar en ayudar te estoy resuelto enviar te oyendo la habiendo observado la atentamente perdona los porque saben no lo que hacen

We saw the carrier enter swearing and blaspheming, vimos á arriero entrar jurando blasfemando and [looking at] us with fiery eyes. We can not mirando nos con centellante podemos no have any idea of human felicities, without having tener ninguno — felicidad sin haber ever experienced them.
nunca experimentado las

Note a.—[Let us arm ourselves] with valour, and armemos nos de valor [let us endeavour] to repel them with intrepidity. esforzemos nos á rechazar los con intrepidez Conduct yourselves with respect.
portad os respeto

Rule 47. Verbs which are not in the infinitive, imperative, nor gerund, have generally their objective case placed before; as, El me enseña, he teaches me; yolo digo, I say it; nosotros los oimos, we hear them.

God sees us, calls to us, and [will judge] us. All ve nos llama á juzgará the affections which rule us are criminal. He that afecto que rigen son culpable el que [wishes for] the sceptre does not know it, and how shall desea cetro á no conoce le como he discharge his duties, not knowing them? desempeñará su obligacion conociendo las Note a.—These words comforted me much. I diverted them with the account of my last adventure. I estas palabras consolaron me mucho diverti los relacion mi ultimo aventura took her to her country, where [we were married]. llevé la su tierra donde nos casamos

Note b.—We come to see her. He will endeavour venimos á ver la procurará to deceive us. I can not find them. Death only á engañar nos puedo no hallar los solamente [shall be able] to separate us. podrá á separar

Variety in the Use of the Objective Cases.

Rule 48. Prepositions when expressed always govern the second objective case; as, Sin ti, without thee; contra ellos, against them.

It is better to leave the great than to complain of es a dexas á a quexarse them. If God is for us, we are enough to go si es somos bastantes para ir against them. I [shall go] with him. Will you come contra iré quiere vm. venir with us? He could not live without her. podia vivir

Note a.—Speak little with others, and much with habla poco con otros mucho [thyself]. He speaks to himself when he is alone. ti habla con si quando esta solo

Note c.—I love him more than her. We esteem quiero le que á apreciamos her less than him. Companions, the king has received la menos compañeros ha recibido you with more attention than me; but he has rewarded os atencion pero premiado me more than you.
me

Rule 49. When in English the objective case of the first or second person is the regimen of the verb, or of the preposition to expressed or understood, we use the first case; as, Yo te exhorté, I exhorted thee; el me venció, he conquered me.

God [will judge] us. Let her reward me. What Dios juzgara que recompense lo que I had heard seemed to me a dream. They brought me habia oido parecia sueño traxeron a piece of black bread. Ye are spies, and we [will pedazo negro pan sois espia punish] you.
castigarémos

Rule 50. If the objective case of the third person be the regimen of the English verb, we translate it by le, los for the masculine, la, las for the feminine, and lo for the neuter; as, El le mató, he killed him; ella los vió, she saw them; ellos lo oyéron, they heard it.

Moses touched with his rod the water of the river, Moises tocó su vara río and changed it into blood. [Hearken unto] the words convirtió en sangre escucha palabra which [I am going] to tell thee, and engrave them que voy á decir graba deeply in thy memory. Man ought to shun profundamente en tu memoria debe á evitar [every thing that] can divert him from the love of todo lo que puede divertir amor God.

Rule 51. If the third person in English be governed by the preposition to expressed or understood, we render it by le, les for both genders; as, Nosotros le hablamos, we spoke to him; yo le escribi, I wrote to her; ella les dixo, she told them.

Canst thou pass a day without thinking on thy Creator, puedes pasar sin pensar en tu Cri-ator, without giving him thanks, without worshipping ador dar gracia adorar him? Generosity unites many virtues, and gives them generosidad junta da an heroic energy.
heróico energia

Notes a and b.—The best of kings do the harm which hacen mal que they would not, because flatterers disguise it to querrian porque lisonjero disfrazan them. Husbands, love your wives, God has given marido amad á vuestras muger ha dado them to you. I shall demand my liberty, and they will pediré mi libertad grant it me. God demands thy heart : canst thou concederán Dios requiere tu puedes refuse it to him ? The king granted them the privi-rehusar concedió privileges, but he did not grant them to them for a long legio A concedió por mucho time.

tiempo

Notes c and d.—The death which Lucretia gave her-que ———— darío self, made her immortal. Which employment was not hizo ———— cuyo ejercicio fué no less profitable to him than to me. But as she loved pero como amaba him as much as he loved her, they were still happy.
eran aun feliz

Note e.—The Athenians understand what is right, Ateniense conocen lo que es justo but the Lacedemonians practise it. I solicited her mas Lacedemonio practican sollicité su hand, she denied it ; I offered her my fortune, she renego ofrecí caudal refused it ; I entreated her to write, she granted it. huso rogué que escribiese concedió

Promiscuous Exercises.

Give her this letter, but do not give it her before da esta carta pero A no des delante de him. Few people prefer the censure which is useful poco gente f. prefieren censura que es util to them, to the praises which betray them. We alabanza que venden ought to relieve the poor when we can do it. debemos A socorrer á quando podemos hacer We always love [those who] admire us. In siempre amamos á aquellos que admiran en thee have I put my trust ! I invited him to sup he A puesto mi confianza convidé á cenar with me. Truth is agreeable, [let us seek] it. con verdad es agradable busquemos

Remember (2) that (1) ye are mortal. Prosperity acordad que os sois prosperidad gets us friends, and adversity tries them. grangea amigo adversidad prueba

POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS*.

Rule 52. Possessives always agree in gender, number, and case, with the possession; as, Nuestro jardin, our garden; en vuestras quintas, in your villas.

Rule 53. Possessive pronouns when used as nominal adjectives precede the noun with which they agree; as, Nuestros empeños, our endeavours; vuestras virtudes, your virtues.

Our virtues are not frequently more than disguised son no frecüentemente disfrazado vices. I exhort you, gentlemen, to continue your literary labours. Can ye abandon your wives, your vicio exhorto os a continuar litevario trabajo podeis abandonar muger children, your king, your country? It seems that the hijo patria parece que first men [lost sight of] the laws of nature: primero perdieron de vista hence sprang our errors, our crimes, our enemies, de aquí nacieron error crimen enemigo our wars. [No one] thinks to scrutinize our origin guerra nadie piensa en escudriñar nor the occurrences of our life [as long as] we do ni circunstancia en tanto que not endeavour to become superior to our companions. nos empeñamos en hacernos compañero

Rule 54. Mio, tuyo, and suyo, lose their last syllable when placed before the noun; as, Mi conducta, my conduct; tus hazañas, thy exploits.

* See Grammar, page 116.

The sun and the moon [will lose] their light, and the perderán dead [will arise] and [come out] of their sepulchres. muerto resucitarán saldrán sepulcro Old Alberto, her father pressed them in his arms, viejo ——— estrechaba brazo promising to crown very soon their tenderness. Jupiter ofreciendo a coronar pronto ternura ——— performs its revolution [round] the sun, attended da vuelta al rededor de acompañado by its satellites. They parted my garments among de satellite repartieron vestido entre themselves, and upon my vesture they cast lots. sobre vestidura echaron suerte

Rule 55. Mio is placed after in our addresses, that is, when it agrees with the second person; as, ¡Acuerdate, hijo mio! remember, my son! — ¡venzamos, paisanos mios! let us conquer, my countrymen.

[Let us lay aside] flattery my friends. [Say not dexemonos de adulacion amigo no digas more,] my dear, replied my brother to his wife. mas querido replicó hermano [Figure to thyself,] my James, the pleasure with which figurate Diego gusto que I heard this news. Thou beginnest now, my son, to oi estas noticia comienzas ahora á enjoy an agreeable life. My good sir, you are en-gozar a señor vm. esta entirely mistaken.
teramente equivocado

Rule 56. When possessives are used as pronouns they agree in gender, number, and case, with the noun which they represent, and are preceded by the definite article; as, Tu casa y la mia, thy house and mine; de mis esfuerzos y los tuyos, of my efforts and thine.

When the Romans knew the utility of the Spanish quando Romano conocieron utilidad Español sword they abandoned theirs. I have paid my expences espada abandonaron he pagado gasto [let them pay] theirs. The historian relates that their que paguen historiador refiere que manners differ from ours. They have their costumbre diferencian tienen opinion, and we ours. [As soon as] that robber had dictamen luego que aquel ladron hubo finished his history, another began his, saying, the acabado otro comenzó diciendo histories which [we have just heard,] are not so curious que acabamos de oir son no curioso as mine.

Rule 57. When the possessive pronoun is connected to the noun by ser, the article is omitted; as, Este libro es mio, this book is mine; el palacio es suyo, the palace is his.

The house is ours but the garden is theirs. They say es pero es dicen that his army was beaten, but I say that victory never ejército fué vencido digo victoria nunca was theirs, it always was ours. The colonies which now siempre colonia que ahora are theirs, were [formerly] ours, and the ships son fueron en otro tiempo navio which are ours, have been theirs. que han sido

Rule 58. When mine, thine, &c. are preceded by of, we omit the preposition, and place the possessive after the noun; as, Un amigo mío, a friend of mine; un autor nuestro, an author of ours.

O thou, said she, whose tears softened the hardness o decia cuyas lágrimas ablandaron dureza of this honest heart of mine! Be not a slave of hers. este honesto seas no

My coming has been to visit an aunt of mine venida ha sido para visitar á tia who is ill. An author of ours hath imitated the que esta enfermo ha imitado best poet of theirs.

Observation.—Pilate took water and washed his hands.

tomó lavarse [I will pierce] my heart with this dagger. David killed atravesarse esta daga — mato Goliath, and [cut off] his head. Scarcely [had I put] cortó cabeza apenas eché my foot on the ground, when the innkeeper [came out] pie á la tierra quando mesonero salió to receive me. The said gentleman wore at his side a á recibir tal caballero traia á lado long sword. As soon as I extricated a little my largo chafarote luego que desembaracé poco head, I said to him. Each put a pistol to my breast. cabeza dixen cada uno puso pistola pecho Grachus divided the treasures of Attalus, but it cost Graco repartió tesoro Atalo pero costó him his life. Saying this, she [took off] from her vida diciendo esto sacó de finger the ring, and put it in my hand. The Philistines dedo sortija puso mano Filisteo took Samson, and [put out] his eyes. Thy head prendieron á sacaron aches, her side aches, and my heart aches. Your duele costado highness knows well that the result of these factions alteza sabe bien que resultado estas faccion will be fatal to your interests. Sir, my son is in será funesto para interes señor hijo esta en love with your daughter. His servants and yours amorado de hija criado are in prison. Gentlemen, your prodigality, and mine estan la cárcel prodigalidad have ruined his family. han arruinado familia

Promiscuous Exercises.

Self-love keeps our eyes always blindfolded. A amorpropio tiene ojo siempre vendado nephew of hers married a niece of his. Honour thy sobrino casó con sobrina honra father and thy mother, that thy days [may be] long que día sean largo upon the land, which the Lord thy God has given thee. sobre que ha dado
 And Isaac said to his father, My father; and he answered, — dixo respondió
 Here am I, my son. When [he had nothing to give] aquí estoy quando no tenia nada que dar he promised, but his were not court promises. He prometia pero eran no corte promesa would not even accept the ring which truly quiso no aun admitir sortija que verdaderamente was mine.
era

RELATIVE PRONOUNS*.

Rule 59. Quien relates to persons only, and is always preceded by some preposition when it is not the subject of the verb; as, El rey es quien lo manda, the king is who commands it; el hombre con quien fuimos, the man with whom we went.

Who (2) hath (1) no shame hath no conscience. tiene no vergüenza conciencia (2) It is (1) He who made man and who [will reward] A es hizo á recompensará him, and we are the sinners whom he calls, and for son pecador llama por whom he suffered.
padeció

Rule 60. Qual and que refer to persons and to things; as, El criado que vino, y por el qual

* See Grammar, page 120.

mande la carta, the servant who came, and by whom I sent the letter.

Self-love is the first that exists, and the last that dies existe último muere in the heart of man. The man that fears God, and that teme á fears but him, is truly free. We do not solo á es verdaderamente libre reflect enough on the dangers to which we are reflexionamos estamos exposed. Death is an evil for which [there is] no expuesto mal no hay remedy.
remedio

Rule 61. Cuyo also relates both to persons and things, but agrees with the word by which it is followed; as, La nacion cuyo rey es sabio, the nation whose king is wise; la calle cuyas casas son altas, the street the houses of which are lofty.

The God of armies, whose cause we defend, will exército causa defendemos protect us. I placed on the table two kinds of soup, at protegerá puse en mesa género sopa á the sight of which they took their places. She feared vista tomaron asiento temia a man whose counsels she could not follow. The á consejo podia seguir Phœnicians whose commerce and navigation we had Fenicio comercio habiamos [so much] admired. Minos, whose wisdom and laws tanto admirado Minos had been so revered. habian sido reverenciada

Rule 62. Who, having its antecedent expressed in English, is generally rendered by que, especially if the antecedent be preceded by the definite article; as, Un rey que gobierna bien, a king who governs well ; el Dios que nos crio, the God who created us.

We have expelled from the city men who were hemos expelido ciudad eran useless. The most unfortunate of men is a king who inutil desdichado believes that his happiness consists in making others cree que felicidad consiste hacer á otros miserable. Apollo killed the Cyclops who had forged Apolo Ciclope habian forjado the thunderbolts of Jupiter. rayo

Rule 63. Whom is generally translated quien ; as, El hombre á quien vimos, the man whom we saw ; las mugeres á quienes envié, the women whom I sent.

[I met] with Doctor Sangrado, whom I had not me encontré habia no seen since the death of my master. It is difficult to visto desde amo es difícil Λ love those whom we do not esteem. I am one amará aquellos Λ no estimamos soy of those lads whom thou [didst threaten] with the aquellos mozo amenazaste rack at Cacabelos.
tormento en

Rule 64. If the English antecedent be a personal pronoun, it is generally suppressed ; as, La que escribió, she who wrote ; los que somos amigos, we who are friends ; los que se empeñan, they who endeavour.—See Demonstratives, Rule 75.

The best Christian is he who knows and practises best Cristiano es sabe practica the law of God. They who forgive much manifest ley perdonan mucho manifiestan as much valour as they who resist. They who till the valor resisten labran fields, says Oliva, are not the slaves of us who dwell campo dice — son no esclavo. mo in the cities, but our parents, since they support us. sino pues mantienen

I want a [maid-servant] and thou art she who suits necesito criada eres conviene me. Be instructed ye that judge the earth. Blessed instruïos juzgais bienaventurado are they who trust in him.

confian en

Rule 65. Yo and tú must always be expressed before the relative; as, Yo que te amaba, I who loved thee; tú que me aborreces, thou who dost hate me.

O thou who hast left an immense space betwixt O tú has dexado immenso espacio entre thee, and all the presumptuous who aspire to imitate presuntuoso aspiran á imitarte thee. I who [would have given] her for nothing. Thou yo daria de balde

who seemest [to have been born] to be our scourge, pareces haber nacido para ser azote listen to me.

escucha

Rule 66. That or which is translated que; as, La hacienda que compramos, the estate that we bought.

Let us endeavour to fulfil the duties of the procuremos á cumplir con obligacion state in which God has placed us. Lying is a vice.

estado ha colocado mentira es vicio which we cannot sufficiently hate.

podemos bastante aborrecer

Rule 67. What is translated que, with the neuter article prefixed; as, Lo que deseamos, what we desire.

What [is well felt] [is well expressed]. The king bien se siente bien se dice who to enlarge his dominions sheds the blood of his por extender dominio derrama sangre f. subjects, deserves to lose what he possesses, since he vasallo merece a perder posee pues wishes to usurp what does not belong to him. quiere a usurpar a pertenece

Rule 68. The relative may be parted from its antecedent, if the words which intervene form a parenthesis to the sentence; as, La dicha espada cortava como una navaja, y no habia armadura (por fuerte y encantada que fuese) que se le parase delante, the said sword cut like a razor, and there never was an armour (so hardened or so powerfully enchanted) that could withstand its edge.—Don Quixote, b. iii. ch. 18.

He hath riches sufficient, who hath enough to be tiene riqueza suficiente bastante para ser charitable. He is unworthy to live, who lives only for caritativo es indigno vivir vive solo para himself. Men ought to shun the amusements (howdeben a evitar diversion por ever agreeable they may be) which corrupt the mas agradables que sean corrompen morals.
costumbre f.

Rule 69. Relatives must immediately follow the preposition by which they are governed; as, El hombre con quien hablamos, the man whom we spoke with.

Moses was the instrument which God [made use of] Moises fué instrumento que se sirvió to deliver the Israelites. This is what I never thought para librar Israelitas esto es nunca pensé off. That was what he stood to. War is the greatest en eso fué se atuvo a evil which God afflicts men with.
que aflige con

Rule 70. Relatives must be expressed, although only understood in English; La muger que amo, the woman I love; la pluma con que escribo, the pen I write with.

The temptations we daily fall into ought to tentacion diariamente caemos en deben Λ convince us of the dangers the world we live in, is convencer peligro vivimos en esta surrounded with. The reward he merits for having rodeado con premio merece por haber conquered them, is equal to the punishments they devencido es igual castigo me- serve for [having allowed themselves to be conquered]. recen haberse dexado vencer

INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS*.

Rule 71. Interrogatives do not admit the article; as, ¿Quien viene, who comes? ¿qual tengo? which have I? ¿que tenemos? what have we? ¿cuyos son los libros? whose are the books?

Who was the first man? Whom have we offended? fué hemos ofendido
 Who were the evangelists? What punishment does he fuleron evangelistas castigo Λ deserve? Which of the commandments have we not merece mandamientos hemos sinned against? What [shall we do?] Whose riches pecado contra haremos will these be. Who [shall comfort] us in that day of Λ serán consolará aquel tribulation.

Note a.—Whose is the victory? In whose likeness es semejanza

* See Grammar, page 124.

was man created? If Adam and Eve were the parents fué criado Adan Eva fueron padre of mankind, whose sons are we?
genero humano hijo somos

Rule 72. If the interrogative be governed by a preposition, it must also precede the answer; as, ¿Con quien se casa ella? whom doth she marry? con el marques, the marquis. ¿De que murio?
what did he die of? de calentura, a fever.

Whom have we offended? God. For whom was d quien hemos ofendido para fué the world created? For man. What will the queen creado travel in? Her coach. What was the law written on? viajará en coche fué escrito en Two tables of stone. Whom did the Israelites murmur tabla piedra against? Moses.
de

Note a.—Whose sons are we? God's. Whose son somos was Solomon? David's. Whose father is God? ours. fué es

DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUNS*.

Rule 73. This is translated by the first; as, Ganaré este pleyto, I shall gain this lawsuit; mandare estos generos, I shall send these goods.

These were his last words, Are these thoughts, fueron ultimo palabra son pensamiento O Telemachus! worthy of the son of Ulysses? He digno delayed the execution until the last stage, this was at dilató hasta posada fué en

* See Grammar, page 124.

Cacabellos. My father wishes to marry me to this man, quiere A casar con but this will never take place.
A nunca tendrá efecto

Rule 74. That may be rendered by the second or third; as, Esa carta, that letter; aquellos papeles, those papers*.

Those evils of which thou complainest, are caused mal quexas son causado by those pleasures to which [thou didst give thyself up] por placer te entregaste in thy youth. That poverty of thine, and those misjuventud pobreza des-fortunes of his proceeded from the same cause. That gracia procedieron mismo causa is to what I never shall consent. es consentiré

Rule 75. English personal pronouns, followed by a relative, not agreeing in case, are generally resolved by the demonstrative in Spanish; as, Debemos premiar á quel que trabaja por la patria, we ought to reward him who labours for the country.

[Should we not] call an enemy to the republic, no llamariamos A enemigo republica á him who [should violate] the laws? Thou didst violase transgress them; him who [should despise] the quebrantaste menospreciase authority of the senate? thou didst crush it; him who autoridad senado A oprimiste [should foment] seditions? thou didst excite them. fomentase sedicion A excitaste

* See also Observation, Grammar, page 126.

Rule 76. That, used twice in the sentence, is generally translated by aquel the second time, if the objects differ in their distance, and by ese if they do not; as, Ese hombre que esta ahí, y aquel que esta alli, that man which is there, and that which is yonder; ese hombre, y esa muger que va con el, that man, and that woman who goes with him.

This crown and this scepter, which we present to corona cetro presentamos your majesty. That smiling aspect, and that affability risueño semblante afabilidad with which your majesty [listens to] the complaints of escucha quexa your subjects. That body which thou seest covered vasallo cuerpo ves cubierto with wounds, and that arm which he left on the field of de herida brazo dexo campo battle, proclaims his patriotism. batalla declaran patriotismo

Note a.—Saying this I took off the candle from the diciendo quité vela candlestick, and delivering the former to the [old woman] candelero entregando vieja I handed the latter to Fabricius. As was his life, so was alargue como fué así his death, he edified as much in the latter, as he had edificó habia edified in the former.
edificado

Note b.—The object of elegance is to please; that of objeto elegancia es a agradar eloquence is to persuade. God [does not neglect] eloqüencia a persuadir no se descuida de those who fear him. This palace, and that which I temen palacio shewed you, are the king's.
enseñé son

Note c.—The first thing which I did was to leave primero cosa hize fué a dexar the mule at discretion, that is [to go] at the pace she mula á ————— que fuese á paso liked.
quisiese

Promiscuous Exercises.

The ministers he appointed were clever. Who ministro señaló fueron hábil soweth contentions reapeth wars. All flatterers live at siembra discordia coge lisonjéro viven á the expense of him who [listens to] them. Things do a costa escucha a not pass for what they are, but for what they appear. pasan por son sino parecen This is the man whom I was with. The exploits este es estaba hazaña which a predecessor has done are confusion and infamy ———— ha hecho son ———— é infamia to the successor, who does not imitate them. The para sucesor a imita dog is the only animal whose natural talents are evident perro es único ———— talento son patente and from whose education we derive always much ———— sacamos advantage. The body perishes, the soul is immortal; ventaja cuerpo perere alma es ———— nevertheless we [attend to] the former, and sin embargo cuidamos de [neglect] the latter. These news, which I nos descuidamos de noticia tell thee, those reports which [were afloat] [last week] digo voz corrieron la semana pasada and those rumours which reached us last year agree rumor alcanzaron se acuerdan wonderfully. What is man in the presence of God? maravillosamente es en presencia and whose protection is equal to his?
———— es igual

INDEFINITES.

Rule 77. One is rendered by uno ; as, No sabe, uno que pensar, one does not know what to think.

Rule 78. Somebody, some one, anybody, any one, are rendered by alguien, or by alguno in the singular ; as, ¿Lo ha dicho alguien ? has anybody said it ? alguno puede haverlo dicho, some one may have said it.

Rule 79. Nobody, no one, not anybody, not any one, is construed nadie, or ninguno in the singular ; as, A nadie teme, he fears nobody ; a ninguno veo, I see no one.

Rule 80. Something, anything, is algo ; as, ¿Tienes algo que decirme ? hast thou anything to say to me ?

Rule 81. Nothing, not anything, is translated nada ; as, Nada de lo que dixo la convenció, not anything he said convinced her.

Rule 82. Some, or any, is rendered by alguno in both numbers, or by unos ; as, Me faltan libros, ¿tiene vm. algunos ? I want books, have you any ? ¿conoce vm. á algunas de estas señoras ? do you know any of these ladies ? conozco á unas, I know some.

Rule 83. None, not any, is translated ninguno ; example : Ninguna de estas señoras es la hija casada, none of these ladies is the married daughter.

Rule 84. Whoever, whosoever, whichever, or whichsoever, are translated quienquiera, or qualquiera, in both numbers ; as, Quienquiera que seas, whoever thou mayest be ; qualquiera que venga, whoever may come.

Rule 85. Whatever, or whatsoever, must be expressed by qualquier cosa; as, Qualquier cosa que digo, whatever I say.

Rule 86. Another, other, others, is rendered by otro in both numbers; as, Mandame otro, send me another; estos libros son caros, pero tengo otros mas baratos, these books are dear, but I have others cheaper.

Rule 87. Each other is translated uno otro; and one another, unos otros; with or without the article, and with the corresponding preposition placed between them, as, of each other, el uno del otro, or uno de otro.

Rule 88. Both is ambos, and several is varios; as, Ni el uno ni el otro ha escrito, por que ambos estan malos, neither of them has written, because both are ill.

Rule 89. Much is construed mucho, and many, muchos; as, Piensa vm. que no tengo pesadumbres, pero tengo muchas, you think I have no troubles, but I have many.

Rule 90. Each when alone is cada qual, or cada uno; as, He comprado seis libros, cada uno en un idioma diferente, I have bought six books, each in a different language.

Rule 91. Each or every, if when joined to a noun they are synonymous, are expressed by cada; as, Cada pregunta la acompañaba con una profunda reverencia, he accompanied every interrogatory with a very low bow.

Rule 92. Every, when not denoting the same meaning as each, is translated by todo in the plural; as, Encendiéron todos sus velas, every one lighted his candle.

Rule 93. All is translated todo in both numbers; as, Todo lo que brilla no es oro, all that glitters is not gold; convidé á muchos, pero no vinieron todos, I invited many, but they did not all come.

Exercise on the foregoing rules.—One ought not to be judge and plaintiff in the same cause. He whom nobody pleases is more unfortunate than he who pleases nobody. If anybody [should ask] me where he is, what can I answer him? No one is free from death. [There is nothing] wicked nor shameful but sin. Fickle minds begin many things and finish none. Whosoever despises the poor is despicable. The innkeeper was as ready to relate all his affairs, as curious in [informing himself] of those of others. One sows the seed, another gathers the fruit. Men [ought to love] one another. Many [deceive] themselves, wishing to deceive others. The world is a stage, in which every one plays his part. All men, said Captain Rolando, wish to [appropriate to themselves] the wealth of another. Consider, man, that after thy death all thy hopes [will have vanished] not even one [will remain].

debe A ser.
demandador mismo agrada es desdichado preguntare donde esta puedo responder esta libre no hay * malo ni vergonzoso sino variable genio empiezan no acaban desprecia á es despreciable me- sonero era facil en contar cosa curioso en informarse † siembra semilla coge fruto deben amarse á se engañan á mismo queriendo A engañar á es teatro representa papel dixo desean A apropiarse bien considera que despues de esperanza habrán desvanecido ni aun quedará

* See Note a, to Rule 81, Grammar.

† See Note a, to Rule 86, Grammar.

to thee. Among authors [there are] entre some who hay copy literally from one another, and others who make theirs copian literalmenta hacen the thoughts of others. Solomon was the most pensamientos fué fortunate, and Job the most unfortunate of men : feliz infeliz
 yet both declare that all is vanity. Nature sin embargo * declaran es vanidad naturaleza and religion both* come from God. How terrible will — * vienen quan — Λ
 (2) death (1) be to any one who [has neglected] sera † que se haya descuidado de his salvation ! To receive from no one is inhumanity ; — no recibir es inhumanidad from many meanness ; and from all greediness. The vileza avaricia belligerent powers are many, and if any one of them beligerante potencia son ‡ should propose any conditions, all [will be] lost.
Λ propusiere — sera perdido [No doubt] the enemy [will ask for] something as no hay duda que pedirá como an equivalent, but nothing [shall we grant] to him, equivalente pero concederemos because whatever [we might yield] to him [would not porque cedieramos no con- satisfy] his ambition. Whosoever [shall persevere] tentaria — perseverare until the end shall be saved. Whatever measures the hasta fin será salvado § medida murderer [may take] to flee from himself, his crime asesino tome para huir delito will always accompany him. The dead [will be raised] Λ siempre acompañará muerto resucitarán

* See Note a, to Rule 88, Grammar.

† See Note a, to Rule 78, Grammar.

‡ See Note b, to Rule 78, Grammar.

§ See Note a, to Rule 84, Grammar.

and every one [will appear] before the judge, who parecerán ante [will reward] each [according to] his works. premiará a segun obra

NAMES OF THE TENSES

TO WHICH THE ROMAN CAPITALS OF THE FOLLOWING EXERCISES REFER.

	{	A Present.
		B Imperfect.
		C Perfect indefinite.
Indicative	{	D Perfect definite.
		E Pluperfect.
		F Future imperfect.
		G Future perfect.
Imperative	{	H Present.
		I Present.
		K Imperfect	{ 1. in RA
			{ 2. in SE
			{ 3. in RIA
Subjunctive	{	L Perfect.
		M Pluperfect	{ 1. in RA
			{ 2. in SE
			{ 3. in RIA
		N Future imperfect.
		O Future perfect.
	{	P Present.
		Q Perfect.
Infinitive	{	R Gerund.
		S Compound of the Gerund.
		T Participle.

On SER and ESTAR.

Rule 94. General truths and the qualities of the mind are expressed with ser, and emotions with estar; as, La muerte es terrible, death is terrible; soy humilde, I am humble; estas triste, thou art sorrowful.

Rule 95. The natural beauties of the body, and its defects when deemed permanent, are denoted by ser; as, La muchacha es bonita, the girl is pretty; el hijo era feo, the son was ugly; la madre es coxa, the mother is lame; el padre es ciego, the father is blind.

Rule 96. Physical changes in the animal body are expressed with estar; as, El niño está frío, the child is cold (to the touch); estuve coxo la semana pasada, I was lame last week.

Rule 97. The natural qualities of substances are expressed by ser; as, El yelo es frío, ice is cold; la nieve es blanca, snow is white; la cera es blanda, wax is soft.

Rule 98. The chemical and mechanical changes in substances are expressed with estar; as, El plomo está derretido, the lead is melted; la cera estaba dura, the wax was hard.

Rule 99. When to be connects two nouns, pronouns, infinitives, or one of each, it is translated ser; as, El temor de Dios es el principio de la sabiduría, the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom; perdonar las injurias es obrar como Cristianos, to forgive injuries is to act like Christians.

Rule 100. The materials of which bodies are formed are denoted by ser; as, El vestido es de paño, the suit is of cloth; los candeleros son de plata, the candlesticks are of silver.

Rule 101. To be forming the passive voice, or used impersonally, is, generally, translated ser; as, ¿No es de maravillarse que la virtud sea tan ameno despreciada, is it not to be wondered at that virtue should be so often despised?

Rule 102. Possession or destination is expressed with ser; as, La corona es del rey, the crown is the king's; esta máquina es para copiar cartas, this machine is to copy letters.

Rule 103. Locality is denoted by estar; as, El estaba en la calle, he was in the street; el reo está delante del juez, the culprit is before the judge.

Rule 104. Estar is employed always to conjugate a verb in the gerund; as, Estoy escribiendo, I am writing; hemos estado arguyendo, we have been arguing.

Rule 105. Before adverbs or adverbial expressions denoting manner, we generally use estar; as, Está de moda, he is in the fashion; estoy de prisa, I am in haste.

Rule 106. Ser requires the same case before as after it; as, Si yo fuera tú, if I were thou; si tu fueras ella, if thou were she.

Exercises on the foregoing Rules.—Gil Blas, said he, ^{dijo} we are always merry. In truth he was the most graceful of all. I am not safe in this country. We ^{ayroso} were tired of marching, His presence is always a ^{B cansado} ^{A seguro} torment to me. Telemachus, come to rest, ^{para} ^{ven á descansar porque} thy clothes are wet. If I were a severe judge. Who is thy father? ^{vestido A mojado si} By [good fortune] I was then alone. ^{K I severo} ^A When the treaty was about to [be concluded] she [was ^{quando tratado B*} ^{concluirse} taken] ill. When kings are beloved they deserve to be ^{cayó malo} ^{A amado A merecen A}

* See Observation after Rule 106, Grammar.

so. When madmen are not raving, they are less objects * loco A furioso A of fear than of diversion. This woman was one of those temor ————— B who have nothing reserved. She was [well off] being no tienen B bien R the wife of an officer who was with the army. Our conversation was interrupted. They repaired to — C interrumpido acudieron where Domingo and I were. They exhorted me to be adonde B exhortaron - á P

A B

adonde B exhortaron á P

always in good humour. He loved me as if I de buen humor amaba como had been his son. Our voices were not very pleasing.

M 1 B grato

Envy is the torment of the envious. Gil Blas, said embidia A embidioso dixo

Laura, thou art among men what I am among women, — A entre A this is the greatest praise which I can give thee. The

A alabanza puedo dar

Lyceum was at Athens, and was the public school.

Liceo B en Atenas B escuela

Here is my purse, it is rather empty, but thou knowest aquí A bolsa A un poco vacío pero sabes that a poor singer is not a bishop. All my beds, said que cantor A obispo cama dixo the landlady, are engaged, because I am expecting some mesonera A ocupado porque A esperando gentlemen of consequence. The bridge was of marble caballero importancia puente B mármol and the railings were of iron. I was counting my barandilla B hierro B contando money perhaps for the twentieth time. My greatest dinero quiza por vex f.

embarrassment is, that I am far from that town. Vulembarazo A que A lejos ciudad Vu!

can was lame. It is certain that war is sometimes necescano B cojo cierto A

* See Note a, to Rule 106, Grammar.

sary, but it is not often so. He was of opinion that

A * parecer [to show himself] to his subjects was to reward them. mostrarse vasallo premiar

The hundred gates of the city of Babylon were of puerta ciudad Babilonia B brass. I am not yet his, replied the daughter, nor never bronze A aun replicó ni jamas shall I be it, either he is a fool, or he was then

A F * O A tonto ó B entonces drunk, and [I had a great mind to] tell him so. The borracho + decir * documents [were not yet] signed. To comfort the documento B † firmar A consolar á afflicted is an act of mercy. Eternity is a contiafligido A obra misericordia eternidad uno continued circle, its centre is [every where] but its cir-nuo círculo centro en todas partes pero circumference is [no where].

cunferencia [no esta] en ninguna

On the Verbs HABER and TENER.

Rule 107. To have used as an active verb is translated tener, and as an auxiliary, haber; as, Tengo parientes, I have relations; habíamos hablado, we had spoken.

We had given them all that we had. They had no

B dado lo que B B more riches. All that man has, he has received from

A A recibido
God. If we had told her who had the letter which she

M 1 dicho B had written, she would have doubted it. Had they

B escrito M 1 dudado M 2 had reason to complain, we would not have blamed de quejarse M 3 culpado them.

* See Note a, to Rule 106, Grammar.

† See Observation after Rule 106, Grammar.

Observation.—Adam was nine hundred and thirty years old when he died. Although Tantalus has the water quando murió aunque A close to his lips, he always is thirsty. Women and chiljunto á A dren are afraid of spectres. Some persons endeavour A espectro se empuñan to appear wicked, only because they are ashamed of en parecer malo solo porque A being good. The water has not been so cold this winter P D as it was [last winter.]

Adan B
C el hibierno pasado

Rule 103. When the auxiliaries to have and to be followed by an infinitive, denote some future action, the former is translated tener que, and the latter haber de; as, Teniamos que escribir, we had to write; habia de venir, he was to come.

I was not [the only one] who was to travel with the B solo B caminar carrier. Who fears God has nothing to fear. He had teme á A temer B lived as if he had not a soul to save, or was never to vivido K 1 salvar K 3 nunca die. Here we are to sleep, said one of the horsemen. morir A dormir dixo caballero We had many letters to write that night, because the B escribir ship was to sail the next day. navio B salir siguiente

Note a.—There was much to fear from such a A B temer tal A meeting. There [will be] many obstacles to overcome. encuentro A F vencer

ETYMOLOGICAL EXERCISES ON VERBS.

On the Regular Verbs.*

Infinitives ending in ar are of the 1st, in er of the 2d, and in ir of the 3d conjugation.

First conjugation*.

The dog barks when we knock at the door. perro ladrar A llamar A á The horses [did neigh]. The bulls bellowed. The relinchar B tero bramar C sheep have bleated. The cats had mewed. The asses oveja balar D gato maullar E asno will bray. The wild boars will have grunted. rebuznar F jabali arruar C [Howl ye] wolves. Though doves may coo. If ahullar H lobo aunque palomo arrullar I serpents were not to hiss, though hens might serpientes silbar K 1 gallina cluck, chickens would pule. Unless the cacarear K 2 pollo piar K 3 amenos que geese have not cackled. If the cocks had not crowed ansar graznar L gallo cantar M 1 so early, the hens would not have chuckled. If temprano coclear M 3 the mice should squeak, or the bees should have raton chillar N abeja hummed.
zumbar O

Second conjugation †.

I fear his vengeance. We shall have dined at temer A venganza comer G four o'clock. Thou didst owe a large sum. They deber B grande cantidad will corrupt thy morals. He read the book with corromper F costumbre ‡ leer C

* See Grammar, page 57.

† See Grammar, page 60.

‡ See N. B. Grammar, page 143.

attention. Let them conquer with their words. We vencer H have lost his friendship. Although the minister may perder D possess the confidence of the prince. We would not poseer I confianza offend them. Though they may arrive before ofender K 3 * llegar I antes de thy return. If they should have drunk that liquor. If vuelta beber O licor thou hadst gathered the flowers. If ye granted coger M 1 conceder K 2 them the favour, they would correspond with gratigracia corresponder K 3 tude. Although he may have committed the crime. If cometer L they should eat this fruit. If her poverty had not comer N pobreza proceeded from her extravagance, I would have proproceder M 2 pro- tected her, because she had not offended me. teger M 3 E

Third conjugation †.

The king prohibited the export of silk-goods. I shall prohibir C extraccion seda genero have set out before thy return. We have applied partir G acudir D often to him. I do not permit his visits. Let us permitir A restrain his ambition. If hogs were not to grunt. restrinir H puerco gruñir K 1 Though lions might roar, they would not stun leon rugir K 2 aturdir K 3 me. Thou didst always elude our vigilance. Though eludir B
 they may feign their grief. Ye had exacted [too ‡ fingir I pena exigir E de-

* See Observation, Grammar, page 144.

† See Grammar, page 63.

‡ See Observation, Grammar, page 144.

much]. If this general should direct well his operations. masiado dirigir N Provided the allies have fought with equal con tal que aliado combatir L igual forces. If they should have omitted the date. If they omitir O fecha had not lived together, they would not have quarrelled vivir M 1 juntos reñir M 3 so often.

On Verbs conjugated as Passive*.

I was taken prisoner in that battle. The law had tomar C been annulled by the parliament. The victory would anular E have been gained by us, if our troops had not been alcanzar M 1 por tropa twice repulsed. Was not the castle given up rechazar M 2 entregar C before the guns were fired? Were the deserters antes que cañon disparar K 2 desertor shot? Many are called, but few will be chosen. arcabucear C llamar A escoger F Should we not have been banished, if we had been desterrar M 1 accused? † The importation had been forbidden. acusar M 2 entrada prohibir E † The news of the defeat were spread now and noticia derrota esparcir B de quando en then. † Their bulletins will be looked upon always quando boletin mirar F with suspicion. sospecha

On Verbs conjugated as Reflective ‡.

I always avail myself of the opportunity. Let aprovecharse A ocasion

* See Grammar, page 71.

† See Grammar, page 145.

‡ See Grammar, page 71.

men accustom themselves to labour. They comacostumbrarse I trabajo quex- plained continually of the abuses. If thou wert to arse B continuamente abuso amuse thyself with me. If the Lord Mayor had divertirse K 2 regidor not exerted himself so much, the bread [would empeñarse M 1 have become dearer]. We have flattered ourselves encarecerse M 3 mas lisonjearse D too much. I shall apply myself to logic. Provided aplicarse F we might free ourselves from his dominion. Had librarse K 2 dominacion ye not deceived yourselves many times? If the go-engañarse E vernment should have seized upon his papers. Let apoderarse O de
 us rejoice at the victory. regocijarse H de

On the Irregular Verbs.*

I. I hate flattery. In order that we may not aborrecer A lisonja afin de que want his protection. Provided that the judge carecer de I con tal que should pity her tears. Let them suffer compadecerse de N padecer H the punishment, though only one may deserve it. That castigo merecer I cruelty may not tarnish the brilliancy of the victory. deslucir I esplendor

II. Many shut their ears to the voice of conscience. cerrar A oido
 Though they may cross the river. In order that atravesar I they may defend the place. Let him govern with defender I plaza gobernar H

* See their Examples, Grammar, page 147.

wisdom. They do not attend to our admonitions.

They err unwillingly. atender A reprehension  errar A*

III. Let them substitute another in my place.

Though he may argue with me. I contribute sometimes. Thou attributest the victory to chance. They distribute their property among the poor.

substituir H lugar argüir I contribuir A atribuir A suerte f. distribuir A caudal entre

V. Let them review the works with impartiality. We did not foresee then our misfortunes. I foresee the consequences of this disagreement. They never have reviewed that pamphlet.

rever H obra imparcialidad prever B entonces desgracia antever A desavenencia rever D folleto

VII. Though the authority may decay. In order that we may not relapse into the same habits. Provided the responsibility should not devolve upon me.

VIII. I hear his voice. From that place they hear every thing with ease. In order that he [may not hear indistinctly] the conversation. Let them overhear all the conference.

IX. I am ashamed of his conduct. Let my tears move thee. He lays bets. He returns that recaer I mismo habito recaer I oir A desde sitio A facilidad entreoir I entreoir H IX. I am ashamed of his conduct. Let my avergonzarse A tears move thee. He lays bets. He returns that mover H apostar A volver A they may absolve him. Smell that rose. Though absolver I * oler H the altar may smell of the incense. Cost what it altar oler I á incienso costar H cost.

 I

X. He contends with me. Correct her. In order competir A corregir H that we may obtain our pretensions. Let us dismiss † conseguir I despedir H them immediately. Measuring their forces with ours. medir R

If the fire should melt the wax. Though they may fuego derretir N cera ask alms.
peder I limosna

XI. He acquires the esteem of his countrymen. adquirir A Warn them of the danger. Defer not thy con-advertir H peligro deferir I version until old age. Adhering always to the same hasta vejez adherir R opinion. In order that we might consent to it. If dictamen consentir K 2 en thou shouldst confer with him upon the subject. Proconferir N sobre asunto vided they do not quarrel. reñir I

XII. He died the following year. Die with morir C siguiente morirse H de shame. Let us die the death of the righteous. Almorir H justo though he might die of grief. He [is dying] for morir K 2 morirse A her. If he should die of this illness. Dying morir N enfermedad morir R for his country.
patria

* See Grammar, page 183.

† See Observation, Grammar, page 144.

XVI. I satisfy him with little. He counterfeited salisfacer A contrahacer C the coin of the realm. If they should not do moneda reyno over again what we have undone. Satisfy him. If rehacer N deshacer D satisfacer H they were to undo it, I would do it over again.
K 1 K 3

XIX. Let us suppose it. We would never opsuponer H opo- pose a negotiation. Let them propose the con-nerse á K 3 proponer H ditions. [Make thyself acquainted] with their pro-imponerse H en pro- posals. They will presuppose our consent. I puesta presuponer F consentimiento prefer virtue to riches. They have composed anteponer A componer D various works. If they should expose her to his rage. exponer N colera
 Ye deposed the sovereign.
deponer C

XXII. Her groans attracted the attention of the gemido atraer C hearers. Although they may contract many debts. oyente contraer I deuda To the end that the delinquents [might take refuge] in retraerse K 2
 the church. Let them subtract the half of the sum. subtraer I

XXIII. Although it may not be worth the while, valer I pena
 The profits would never be equivalent to the labour. ganancia equivaler K 3 trabajo I do not go out early. He will surpass his predesalir A sobresalir á F cessors in humility. Surpass thy ancestor in sobresalir á H antepasados virtue.

XXIV. The innkeeper conducted me to the house mesonero conducir C of a carrier. If this orator were never to introduce arriero introducir K 1 his similes. Though he may not seduce her with proseducir I promises. If the trees should not produce fruit [next mesa árbol producir N el verano summer]. Provided we translate the document. que viene traducir I documento

XXVI. We shall abide by your opinion. Let us atenerse F á not detain her. In order that they might keep up detener I mantener K 2 their establishment. He would not entertain them. entretener K 3 Refrain thy passions. If they should not abstain contener H abstenerse N from strong liquors.
fuerte licor

XXVII. Let them agree better in future. Though avenirse H en adelante some accident may happen to them, they never will sobrevenir I infringe the laws. The bad smell arose from the contravenir á F mal olor provenir C drain. But if the verb should intervene. We precaño pero intervenir N prepared ourselves for the battle. venirse C

XXVIII. I never retract what I have said. They desdecirse de A D will bless the hand. He had predicted that they bendecir F predecir E would curse him. Though he should contradict maldecir K 8 contradecir N the assertion, I will not retract. If they should curse us afirmacion F N

in their wrath. If they had blessed us. This bread is enojo M 1 *
 blessed.

T *

On the Impersonal Verbs †.

Amanecer, Anochecer, Nevar, Helar, &c.

It will not be light so soon to-morrow. It snowed amanecer temprano mañana nevar C two hours after it was dark. Though it may grow dark anochecer C anochecer I early. If it should thunder and lighten we shall see tronar N relampaguear N ver F the road by the flashes of lightning. Though it may camino á lux relampagos thunder and lighten to-night. We [shall be at break I I esta noche amanecer F of day] with the army.
ejército

Haber.

There are some unhappy moments in which the most A desgraciado qual virtuous are the most feeble. There is no government in virtuoso debil A which there have not been some variations. Provided L mudanza there be honour there will be security. There would I honra F seguridad have been many disputes, though certainly there was M 1 á la verdad B no cause. Then said the Creator, Let there be light, H
 and there was light.

C

* See Observation, Grammar, page 188.

† See Grammar, page 188 to 193.

Hacer.

It is cold; but provided it should be no colder than it A frio pero I has been to-day, it will not be so cold this winter as it D hoy F was last winter. It was then ten years since they C invierno B entonces que [had written to us]. It is a hundred and three years no nos escribian A since they rebuilt the church of Saint Paul. On the reedificar C iglesia Santo Pablo A sixth of February will be three years since the Prince of F que
 Wales was appointed Regent.
fué nombrado regente

On the Observation, Grammar, page 193.

There needs no more than a bad inclination to make no ser menester A ————— para hacer á a man vicious. It is not enough to think with exactness, vicioso bastar A pensar exactitud we must also express ourselves with clearness. It ser menester A expresarse claridad is necessary to prefer our duty to our pleasure. It ser preciso A preferir obligacion gusto is not enough for a general to be prudent, it is also basta A necessary that he be fortunate. It is the Gospel that afortunado evangelio commands us to forgive our enemies. It is not those manda perdonar á who speak most that men admire. It is thou who hablar mas admirar A hast deceived us. Men must obey the laws, since engañar D ser menester A puesque it is they that defend us. defender A

On the Use of the Tenses.Present and Imperfect of the Indicative.*

God is propitious to those who implore him. Nero propicio implorar was a detestable tyrant. All men talk of liberty, savages hablar salvage alone possess it. The Lacedemonians sacrificed their solo poseer Lacedemonio sacrificar children. He sets out to-morrow for Spain. The prohijo partir prodigal lives rich and dies poor, the miser lives poor and digo vivir morir avaro dies rich. Most people live without reflection.

On the Perfect Indefinite, Perfect Definite, and Pluperfect.

God has imprinted in the heart of man the love of estampar liberty. As soon as Cæsar had entered the senate, the luego que entrar en conspirators threw themselves upon him. All his hoecharse nours, riches, and power, vanished immediately. It is vanecer hacer now four years since he has been with the army. [We que had then corresponded with each other] for more than entonces cartearse ten years. When man considers how long he has considerar quanto tiempo offended his Creator, and He has pardoned him, he perdonar shudders. No sooner had Adam heard the voice, than estremecerse no bien oir que he grew ashamed of his nakedness. avergonzarse desnudex

* See Grammar, from page 195 to 215.

On the Future Imperfect and Future Perfect.

The prayers of the righteous will be efficacious. I oracion justo eficaz shall set off to-day, and shall have spoken with him partir hablar before his return. God will reward the good, and antes de vuelta recompensar will punish the wicked. The Prince of Wales will have castigar malo been Regent three years in February. Perhaps the com-por missioners are now signing the capitulation. I suppose Λ co- misionado firmando ——— Λ you have read the Gazette. Is there a grief like mine? leer
 Some said, Can this man be a Deity under the human decir deidad bajo form?
figura

On the Imperative and the Present of the Subjunctive.

Remember, man, that thou art dust. Forgive them, acordarse polvo perdonar Father, for they know not what they do. Come to-saber hacer venir morrow with thy daughter, but come not early. Let us profit by his example. Use thy authority with moaprovecharse usar de autoridad deration, and do not abuse thy power. abusar poder

On the Terminations RA, SE, and RIA.*

How many men would have perished in that battle!
quanto perecer

* See Grammar, page 209.

Nations would be happy, if wisdom were the only object feliz sabiduría único of sovereigns. Had we no pride, we should not complain quexarse of the pride of others. We should be happy now if Adam had not sinned. Caligula commanded that the Romans should render him divine honours. Were men to follow the dictates of reason, they would save pecar mandar themselves many sorrows. Had Cæsar been less ambiseguir precepto tious, he would have done more honour to human na-ahorrarse ture. Did you but know where I am now, you would saber

put up a thousand supplications to heaven, that I might ofrecer suplica porque return to your house. Oh! [had I but seen her] before volver o si ver ella her death! Fearing that study might fatigue me. He temer fatigar ordered the general to take the fortress, and to [put to mandar tomar fortaleza y que matar death as many as] he found armed, and to pay for a quantos encontrar armado que pagar all the provisions which he might want. Without viveres necesistar temptations we should not be able to know ourselves. poder conocerse yo mismo

The innkeeper to whom I related my adventure, (with posadero contar aventura de which the scoundrel was perhaps better acquainted than el qual bellaco estar quiza informado*

I,) pitied me.

compadecerse de

* See the last N. B. Grammar, page 211.

On the different Significations of the Preterimperfect and Imperfect Future of the Subjunctive.

No one seemed to me, then, more suited to believe parecer entonces apto para creer every thing I might choose to tell him. Thou wilt have todo querer decir [as many conveniences as] [thou mayest choose]. He quantas conveniencias querer gave them permission to do what [they might happen to hacer querer like] ; hence it is that they did then what they chose ; de aquí querer
 they do now what they choose ; and doubtless will do querer sin duda hereafter what they will. Ye may stop in my her-en adelante querer poder quedarse hermitage [as long as] ye like. He that has valour mita todo el tiempo que querer will follow me. If I were a king I would do what I seguir hacer like. He had ordered that all neutral vessels which should mandar neutral buque enter the ports of England, or should have been entrar en puerto searched by the English cruizers, should be confiscated registrar por crucero confiscar [as soon as] they entered the ports of France. luego que

SYNTACTICAL EXERCISES ON VERBS.

On the Agreement of the Verb with its Subject.

Rule 109. The verb and its subject agree in number and person ; as, El maestro enseña, y los discipulos aprenden, the master teaches, and the scholars learn.

Fortune and caprice govern the world. A babblers capricho gobernar hablador speaks when we do not listen to him, and does not hablar quando escuchar listen to us when we speak to him. Interest and vanity occasion the greatest portion of human misery.

causar

parte

Rule 110. If the subject of the verb be a collective noun, the verb may be put in the plural; as, Una multitud entráron, a multitude entered.

An infinity of persons came to offer me their services. infinidad sujeto venir á ofrecer antencion A multitude gnawed his entrails. We read the muchedumbre roer entraña leer resolutions in the presence of all, but the majority opposed them. presencia pero pluralidad oponerse á

Rule 111. A verb having different persons for its subjects, agrees with the pronoun understood; as, El rey y la reina (ellos) entraron, the king and queen (they) came in.

Thou and he who conducts thee shall perish. As soon guiar perecer luego as we saw our master dead, Dame Jacinta Inesilla and que amo muerto Señora I began a concert of mournful howlings. Her father comenzar musica funebre alarido and mother [will not consent]. consentir

Rule 112. If a verb have several subjects not connected by a conjunction, it agrees generally with the last; as, Esquadras, exércitos, dinero, todo se sacrificó, fleets, armies, money, all was sacrificed.

Wealth, dignities, honours, every thing disappears at bienes dignidad honor desaparecer the hour of death; virtue alone remains. Our ships, solo permanecer navio

our colonies, our commerce, every thing is ruined. colonia comercio estar perdido Games, conversation, spectacles, nothing amuses her. juego ————— espectáculo divertir

Note a.—Not only his property and his health, but solamente caudal salud sino his reputation also has been sacrificed. The heavens, ————— tambien sacrificar cielo the earth, and even man, shows his omnipotence. tierra aun manifestar omnipotencia

Note b.—(5) His valour and his constancy (2) were valor constancia (1) never (3) more (4) exposed, than in the last exponer battle. Let (2) him and his relations (1) quit this pariente salir de country.
pais

Observation.—I do not like to give my estate to a gustar dar hacienda spendthrift. He will like to see the public buildings. pródigo ver publico edificio The apartment could hold a bed, a press, and two chairs. aposento caber cama armario silla The conversation of those who like to show their supe-gustar mostrar superiority is irksome.
rioridad enfadoso

Government of Verbs.

Rule 113. An active transitive verb governs the noun to which its energy passes, in the objective case; as, El la mató, he killed her.

God wisely governs the world. Riches often pro-sabiamente gobernar procure us envy. Discord always produces quarrels. curar discordia contienda Neither riches nor dignities render us happy. ni dignidad hacer

Rule 114. Active verbs govern their objective case with the preposition á, if it be a person; as, Venció al enemigo, he conquered the enemy.

Though [we may be able] to deceive men, we shall never be able to deceive God. Nature makes the poet; art the orator. Minos loved his people more than his own family.

poder A engañar
hacer orador pueblo propio

Observation.--Covetousness begets often prodigality, and prodigality sometimes begets covetousness. Flatterers make cowards vain, and fools mad. Hope is the only comfort which never abandons the gamester. Philip sent the deputies to the minister. [Waiting for] this maturity, I did not learn to read or to write.

avaricia engendrar prodigalidad lisonjero hacer cobarde vano necio loco esperanza único consuelo abandonar jugador Felipe mandar diputado esperar madurez aprender á leer ni escribir

Rule 115. Passive verbs require the preposition de or por before the noun which denotes the agent; as, Dios es temido de or por los malos, God is feared by the wicked; El reo fué sentenciado por el juez, the culprit was sentenced by the judge.

An affable man is beloved by all the world. Great men are persecuted by envy. Learning and virtue are sought by few.

afable amar perseguir envidia ciencia buscar poco

Note a.—Cain was killed by his own brother. The History of Don Quixote was written by Cervantes.

matar
escribir

Rule 116. Neuter verbs, active intransitive, as well as some reflective verbs, have a regimen with de, which denotes what causes their effects; as, Bramar de corage, to roar with passion; Correrse de la pregunta, to blush at the question; Me alegro de verte, I am glad to see thee.

My grandfather wept with joy. My parents wondered at my prodigious memory. Ah! poor Gil Blas, die with shame. Lucinda retired, crying with passion. I am ashamed to see you in such a condition. I soon [grew tired] of living among these wretches.

abuelo llorar padre maravillarse prodigioso memoria morirse vergüenza retirarse llorando condición lera avergonzarse ver tal presto cansarse vivir miserable

Rule 117. Verbs implying motion to, towards, or from a place, govern the noun denoting whence the motion proceeds with de, the noun which points out its direction with á, and the noun expressing the space through which it passes with por: example; Fueron de Londres á Chelsea, por el Parque, they went from London to Chelsea, through the Park.

In an instant, said Telemachus, I passed from the bitterest grief to the greatest joy. [Before we rush] upon danger, we ought to foresee the consequences. We had passed then from the hardships of slavery to the sweets of liberty. No mortal can [go out] of this world without passing through the gates of death.

instante decir pasar amargo dolor alegría antes de arrojarnos deber prever consecuencia rigor esclavitud dulzura libertad poder salir

Observation.—I set off immediately to discharge my parlir al punto executar commission. The innkeeper came out to receive me comision mesonero salir recibir with much urbanity. [I must go] and [look for] urbanidad es menester que vaya buscar them. He will not see her again. He again read the ver leer paper with much attention.

Rule 118. Verbs of demanding, and of granting or refusing, govern generally the person to whom their energy is directed with the preposition á ; as, Pide perdón á Dios, ask pardon from God.

This wonderful secret, which nature could not maravilloso secreto poder conceal from my profound observation. We plucked ocultar profundo observación arrancarse from each other a handful of hairs. I bought her watch puñado cabello comprar reloj of a famous watchmaker. I asked the innkeeper if famoso relojero preguntar mesonero he had any fish.
alguno pezcado

Note a.—He made war upon the two sovereigns, and hacer á took from them various places. They always ask tomar plaza pedir leave of him, but he never grants it to them. permission conceder

Note c.—I [went out] of Ithaca to inquire after my salir ——— preguntar father of the other kings who had returned from the siege volver sitio of Troy.
Troya

Rule 119. Verbs implying yielding, or resistance, generally require á before the regimen to which their energy is directed ; as, Me opondré á las leyes, I shall oppose the laws ; Se aplicó á cul- tivar la tierra, he applied himself to cultivate the ground.

No one can resist his arguments. [He has always poder resistir argumento siempre regulated himself] by the will of his superiors. An arreglarse voluntad superior Arab who dedicates himself to the occupation of a land Arabe dedicarse ——— tierra pirate, habituates himself to bear the fatigue of journeys, pirata habituarse sufrir viage and accustoms himself not to sleep, and to endure heat hacerse dormir tolerar calor and thirst.
sed

Rule 120. Verbs of comparing generally require á befor the noun with which the comparison is made; as, El hijo se parece al padre, the son resembles the father.

Those vices which resemble virtues are the worst of semejarse
 all. [As for me] I prefer my country to the por lo que toca á mi preferir patria hundred cities of Crete. The splendour of the fortune Creta esplendor of the wicked resembles the lightning which precedes malo semejarse relampago precede the [clap of thunder].
trueno

Rule 121. Verbs implying to belong, to concern, to happen, to ploy, as well as most of the impersonal verbs, generally require á before the noun to which their energy is directed; as, Importa á los Cristianos, it concerns Christians.

I knew the cards, and I played at dice. It concerns conocer naípe jugar dado importar princes to judge of their ministers, but it concerns us to á jugar submit to their will. It concerns them to consider someterse considerar my resolution, and it concerns him to execute it. executar

Rule 122. Verbs of condemning require the punishment preceded by the preposition a; as, Condenarán al reo á galeras, they will condemn the culprit to the galleys; Sentenciaron al desertor á ser arcabuceado, they sentenced the deserter to be shot.

Adam was condemned to cultivate the ground. Tan-Adan condenar cultivar tierra Tantalus was condemned to a continual thirst, and to have talo sed f.
 the water [up to] his chin, and [not to be able] to hasta barba no poder taste it.
probar

Rule 123. Verbs implying plenty or want, remembrance or oblivion, have a regimen generally preceded by de; as, Llenó la casa de gente, he filled the house with people; Acuerdate de tu Cria-dor, remember thy Creator.

Remember the shortness of life, and the certainty acordarse brevidad certidumbre f. of death. Rules always need examples. Let us necesitar arm ourselves with patience. I did not doubt the death armarse paciencia dudar of my husband. Remember that I have intrusted to acordarse confiar thee the secret.

Rule 124. Verbs implying praising, blaming, absolving, using, repenting, jeering, and pitying, generally have a regimen also with de; as, Por la noche nos juntabamos, y nos reíamos de los que se habian compadecido de nosotros por el dia, at night we met, and used to laugh at those who had pitied us in the course of the day.

Perhaps Hazael will pity my youth and my tears. The worldly will deride us, but what will not the worldly deride? Let us avail ourselves of the present time. An honest man values himself upon nothing.

quiza ——— compadererse lágrima mundano burlarse pero aprovecharse honrado preciarse

Note a.—Thy parents will repent to have lectured, so much, a simpleton. We did not laugh at hearing her sing; but at seeing her dance.

arrepentirse arengar mentecato reirse oir cantar sino ver baylar

Rule 125. Verbs implying distance or separation generally require de before the noun which is not their own direct regimen; as, Apartate de la ocasion, avoid the opportunity.

They have degenerated from their first state. I shall mistrust myself as my most terrible enemy. I did not know him at first, because he had changed dress. We renounce more easily our interests than our pleasures.

degenerar desconfiar mi mismo conocer al principio porque mudar trage renunciar facilmente

Rule 126. Most verbs admit a regimen with en, denoting wherein the meaning of the said verbs is conspicuous; as, Siempre pensaré en ti, I shall always think on thee.

We ought to think frequently on the shortness of pensar con frecuencia brevidad life, and on the certainty of death. I thought only certidumbre f. pensar on cultivating my talent, and on applying myself to cultivar aplicarse labour. It is better not to abound with riches, than to trabajo abundar burn with the desires which they excite. abrasarse deseo excitar

Rule 127. Verbs denoting behaviour generally require con before the persons towards whom it is directed; as, Me desahogaré con mi padre, I will unbosom myself to my father.

We ought to behave well to those who have behaved deber portarse well to us. She plays him the same part which he representar mismo papel [used to play] to her. [Acquit thyself] towards thy cumplir neighbour, as thou wouldst that thy neighbour should próximo como querer acquit himself towards thee.

Observation.—My mother [used to suffocate] me with sofocar caresses. Strike him hard, said he to them, and let him caricia dar recio decir die with blows: immediately they threw themselves morir garrotazo echarse upon me, and struck me with their bludgeons. They sobre garrote opened the breach with a single [shot of their gun]. abrir brecha solo cañonazo

ON VERBAL REGIMEN.

Rule 128. If two verbs come together in English, and the second be in the infinitive, it is generally used in the same mood in Spanish; as, Quiero aprender, I wish to learn; Debemos obedecer, we ought to obey.

I should like to go ; but he will not like to return querer Δ ir pero Δ volver with me. We ought to suffer with resignation all the deber Δ sufrir evils which we cannot avoid. Men ought to flee from mal poder evitar Δ huir vice, and to practise virtue.
 Δ practicar

Rule 129. Verbs denoting to dare, to begin, to teach, to learn, to compel, generally require á before the infinitive which they govern ; as, No me atrevo á salir, I dare not go out.

Grammar is the art which teaches to speak and to gramatica enseñar hablar write correctly. All men ought to learn to know escribir correctamente deber aprender conocerse themselves. A libertine seldom begins to reform libertino rara vez empexar reformarse [until] he [sees himself] compelled to abandon his hasta que verse precisar abandonar pleasures.

Rule 130. Verbs implying to submit, to oppose, to exhort or invite, to prepare, to assist, to be destined, and to accustom oneself, require also generally á before the infinitive which they govern ; as, Exhortaronme á vivir Cristianamente, they exhorted me to live like a Christian.

I had accustomed myself to treat only with acostumbrarse tratar unicamente persons of distinction. Whilst they prepared to re-persona mientras disponerse re- ceive us. Religion obliges us to revere princes, and cibir obligar reverenciar to obey our superiors. Help me to overcome my obedecer superior ayudar vencer passions.
pasion

Rule 131. Verbs signifying to abstain, to cease, to deprive, to finish, govern the infinitive with de;

as, Cesaron de atormentarme, they ceased to torment me.

I thought that fortune would cease to persecute me. pensar que cesar perseguir They ceased to torment me with their remedies.

atormentar remedio
I saw that I could not avoid to communicate my ver poder dispensarse comunicar ideas.

idea

Note a.—He is just gone out. He was but just come salir entrar in when I saw him. She had just lost her husband.

ver perder
They have just gained a complete victory.

alcanzar

Note c.—Take care not to judge the works of others.
guardarse juzgar obra

I shall take care not to tell them the secret. He took decir secreto good care not to return.

bien

volver

Note d.—It is better to prevent evil than to be under mal a verse en the necessity of punishing it. He has no need to come precision castigar necesidad so far, for I shall have time to call at his house to-day.

lejos porque tiempo pasar hoy

Note e.—Fortune causes (2) our virtues or vices (1) to hacer

be seen. He caused himself to be beloved by his subjects ver hacerse vasallo by his affability. The mayor ordered us to [be taken up.]

por afabilidad corregidor mandar a prender

Men suffer themselves often to be overcome by temptadexarse

vencer

tions, because they dare not expose themselves to the atreverse sarcasms of the world.

sarcasmo

Observation.—It was not easy to [meet with] a more favourable conjuncture to free ourselves from his dominion. To obtain a convenient seat, it was necessary to go very early, but who [would not rise betimes] to have the pleasure of hearing his speeches? The victory is not yet gained. The capitulation was not signed.
 There remains to us yet [a great deal] to suffer. Nothing ought to be left undone. Our wrongs remain still unrevengeed.

hallar conjuntura librarse do- minacion lograr cómodo asiento temprano madrugar gusto oir discurso alcanzar firmar quedar mucho padecer hacer agravio aun vengar

Regimen in the Indicative or Subjunctive.*

Rule 132. When two verbs come together in English, and that the latter is governed in the indicative or subjunctive with a conjunction, the Spanish verb will in general admit the same mood; as, Dixóme este que pensaba partir temprano, the latter told me that he meant to set out early.

Consider, man, that every thing has had a beginning, and that it will have an end. I never thought that my name would be known at Peñafior. He contrived that we should be conducted to a very retired room. I expected he would have come to-day.

considerar principio fin nunca creer conocer en disponer conducir retirado venir hoy

* See Directions for placing the Verbal Regimen in the Subjunctive, Grammar, page 238.

† See N. B. after this Rule, Grammar.

Observation.—I could receive him then, and so I told Agnes to conduct him to my room. They ordered poder recibir entonces asi decir Ines conducir quarto mandar him to teach me, but they permitted him only to enseñar mas permitir threaten me. I wish to go there to-morrow, and I wish amenazar querer a allá you to go with me. Joseph told his brethren to return decir volver and bring Benjamin.
traer

Rule 133. Verbs denoting fitness or necessity, such as imply command or permission, those which signify desire or joy, wonder or doubt, and impersonals used interrogatively or negatively, govern generally their regimen in the subjunctive; as, Mandó que rindiesen la plaza, he ordered the place to be given up; No hay ninguno que vaya, there is no one to go.

It is not to be wondered at that the superstitious ages de maravillarse supersticioso siglo have produced an unbelieving age. There are very few producir incrédulo who [have not exposed themselves] to temptations. The exponerse tentacion judge ordered the carrier to be stript, and that in his mandar desnudar presence they should give him two hundred lashes. dar azote

Note a.—Though thou come a hundred times.
venir
 [In order] that no one [might know] it. [To the end] a fin de saber para that you [may be convinced.] [Lest] thou fall into convencerse no sea que caer en temptation. Provided we put our trust in God. con tal que poner confianza

Promiscuous Exercises.

Charity is the virtue which men want most. [They carecer mas have not acquitted themselves] towards her as they ought.
cumplir deber
 They will not like his voice. Contradiction ought to gustar deber Δ awaken attention, and not anger. All those who despertar atencion cólera know their temper, do not always know their heart. conocer genio Δ siempre corazon The elders [were astonished] at my answers. Again anciano espantarse respuesta she sang, and again they hissed her. I mounted a cantar silvar montar good horse, which they had taken from the gentleman. coger caballero
 We ought to resist the temptations of the world. deber Δ resistir tentacion Malice [takes pleasure] in lowering our pride. At hearing malicia complacerse abatir á el oir this she changed countenance. Men ought not to forget mudar semblante deber olvidarse what they are, nor the end for which they were created. ni fin
 But the wise Mentor opposed so rash a design. The pero sabio oponerse temerario Δ designio father wept with joy when he saw his daughter, and the llorar gozo ver mother seemed [as if she would] [devour her] with parecer que queria comersela kisses. The parents of the [young gentleman] allowed beso caballerito dexarse themselves easily to be deceived. Let us behave Δ fácilmente engañar portarse in such a manner to all, as to deserve the esteem de Δ modo merecer estimacion of the good. It suffices us to know that it is a work basta obra
 of his, to be persuaded that it is an excellent work. estar persuadido

Youth wants wisdom to deliberate, and old age power carecer vejez
 to execute.

ON THE GERUND.

Rule 134. The English participle present is construed with the gerund in Spanish; as, The news being certain, siendo ciertas las noticias.

I have been reading, and he is now writing. Then turning to her, and seeing her grief, he said. They were coming * towards us ; but having observed † our position, and believing our forces superior, they fled.

Rule 135. Gerunds admit the same regimen as do the verbs from which they are derived; as, Arrepintiendose de sus culpas, repenting his crimes.

Rule 136. The present participle, when used in English as a verbal noun, is resolved into the present of the infinitive in Spanish ; as, The pleasure of speaking to him, el gusto de hablarle.

The Asiatics, remembering the dignity of Berenice, Asiano acordarse dignidad and pitying her hard fate, sent her succours. I compadecerse malo suerte f. enviar socorro saw her coming †, and profiting by the opportunity [I ver venir aprovecharse ocasion went away] without saying a word ; but she heard me irse palabra oir

* See Note b to this Rule, Grammar.

+ See Compound of the Gerund, Grammar, p. 240.

† See Note a, to Rule 134, Grammar.

[going * out]. Claudina looked without ceasing towards salir mirar cesar hacia the place. Happiness does not consist in living, but in sitio felicidad consistir vivir sino en [knowing how] to live. At last Domingo, after saber en fin despues de having eaten † and drunk well, went to his stable. comer beber bien caballeriza We took the place without having fired a gun. tomar plaza disparar cañon Clouds are formed from exhalations, arising ‡ from the nube f. formar levantar earth. I met them marching ‡ towards the fortress. encontrar marchar fortaleza

Note a.—We shall obtain peace by making great sa-lograr hacer crifices. I convinced him by representing their wants, convencer representar necesidad and by reminding him of his former friendship. traer á la memoria § antigua amistad

ON THE PARTICIPLE.

Rule 137. The participle is indeclinable when it is employed to form the compound tenses of any verb ; as, Nosotros le hemos ofendido, y el nos ha perdonado, we have offended him, and he has pardoned us.

The armies have fought with intrepidity. combatir intrepidex [How many] have repented not having applied themselves quanto arrepentirse aplicarse to study in their youth, having suffered (2) many op-estudio juventud dexar

* See Note a, to Rule 134, Grammar.

† See Compound of the Gerund, Grammar, p. 240.

‡ See Observation, Grammar, page 240.

§ See *, Grammar, page 227.

portunities (1) to escape, wherein they might have profited by the instructions they had received ! escapar en que apro- vecharse recibir

Rule 138. When the participle is not preceded by the auxiliary haber, it assumes all the properties of a verbal adjective, and is consequently declinable ; as, Los justos serán premiados, the righteous will be rewarded ; Ella parece afligida, she seems afflicted.

The wicked are always tormented by their own conscience. All chemical preparations, said Doctor Sanguado, appear to me invented to ruin nature. Let us consider who has given us being, and for what end we have been created ; how many are the mercies received ; and how great the ingratitude with which we have repaid them.
malo atormentar químico decir parecer idear arruinar considerar dar ser para que criar gracia
recibir pagar

Note a.—I have written to him four letters on the subject, but he has not replied to any. I had spoken to them, and had convinced them. He concealed himself, to avoid the praises which he had so well deserved.
tener escribir asunto tener contestar ninguna tener hablar tener convencer ocultarse evitar alabanza tener merecer

Note b.—This ceremony being concluded, they put me at the door. The male issue of the Gothic kings ceremonia concluir poner puerta masculino linea godo being extinct, the crown of Leon passed to his sister. extinguir — pasar

 The rebels being vanquished, the army returned to rebelde vencer volver England. Having obtained the king's license, we set off conseguir partir immediately.
al punto

ON ADVERBS*.

Rule 139. When two or more adjectives coming together are to be formed into adverbs, the adverbial termination is added to the last adjective only; as, Habla clara y concisamente, he speaks clearly and concisely.

He composes correctly, writes elegantly, and speaks componer correcto escribir elegante hablar eloquently. A friend who candidly and judiciously eloquente candido juicioso warns us secretly of our faults, is a treasure which we advertir secreto yerro tesoro cannot easily acquire, nor sufficiently appreciate. poder fácil adquirir suficiente apreciar

On JAMAS, NUNCA, No, and MUY†.

What we do willingly, is commonly ‡ well done. hacer gustoso comun bien Never [reproach] any one with the services which echar en cara á Λ servicio thou doest to him. He who is a slave to his passions esclavo can never boast of being free. If a man cannot vanagloriarse

* See Grammar, page 243.

† See Grammar, page 244.

‡ See Observation, Grammar, page 244.

find peace within his heart, he never will find it in hallar dentro de any other place. When they ask bishops if they ninguno parte f. preguntar wish to be bishops, they always answer, No. It is *querer siempre responder  better to want riches, than † to employ them badly. carecer emplear mal

Men forgive more easily hatred than contempt. Never, perdonar facil odio desprecio no never, shall we see again those happy days! He is feliz

very angry, because his son is very much inclined to vice.
enojado porque

You have offended her very much.
ofender

ON PREPOSITIONS ‡.

The unhappy minister lost all the hopes on desdichado perder esperanza which his ambition had fed. And [taking out] from alimentarse sacar

the pocket my ducats, I began to count them within comenzar contar the hat. Heaven has united us again, after so many sombrero el cielo juntar years of separation. All loved him, some for his gifts, querer dadiva others for his benevolence. We saw the valley from the cima top of the rock. Dame Jacinta was by my master. señora amo

Most times they punished me without reason. Every castigar

morning we rehearsed after the manner of players. ensayarse comediante

He knew what he never had known until then. He was saber

* See Observation, Grammar, p. 244.

† See Grammar, page 245.

‡ See Grammar, from page 246 to 250.

not elected for his erudition. This adventure did not elegir

seem to me the best omen for the rest of the journey.

parecer agüero resto viage

Now then, asked the chapman coolly, How much ahora bien preguntar chalan frio quanto do you ask for your mule? Before his death he confessed pedir the crime before several witnesses. Saying this, he drew delito

testigo

decir

sacar

from under the habit a leather purse. We had travelled cuero bolsa

caminar above two miles. Their lamentations were mingled with milla

lamento mexclar

the cries of the Indians. Trees are known by their grito

Indio

fruits. He saw himself compelled to place me under verse

precisado

poner

the rod of a preceptor. I placed on the table two férula mesa kinds of soup. Our Antipodes are not beneath us, nor género sopa

Antipoda

we beneath them. He wrote on the nineteenth, that

escribir

he would set out on the twenty-second, but he was not partir

estar

back on Friday. Let us humble ourselves before de vuelta humillarse

the Lord.

Rule 140. Prepositions govern the objective case ; as, Me queixo de ti, I complain of thee ; No puede vivir sin mí, he cannot live without me.

Be always on [thy guard]. Cast thy eyes on

estar

sobre

tú pon

ojo en

me. How shall I be able to live without thee, after yo como

poder

vivir

tu

having lived so long with thee? There was no tanto tiempo con

mercy for me.

misericordia

ON CONJUNCTIONS.

Rule 141. The copulative but not being preceded by a negative is expressed by pero or mas; and after a negative it is construed sino: as, I am rich, but I am not happy, yo soy rico, pero or mas no soy dichoso; He is not happy, but rich, no es dichoso, sino rico.

Rule 142. The exceptive but being preceded by an interrogative pronoun, or by a negative, is expressed by sino; and not following a negative is rendered menos; as, Who said it but you? ¿quien lo dixo sino vm.? She eats nothing but fruit, ella no come sino fruta; She eats all but the rind, ella como todo menos la corteza.

None but God can know our thoughts. She is continually deceiving him, but nevertheless he likes her.

Every thing but the hour of death is uncertain. I do not complain of the law, but of her servants. Who caused

(2) humanity to (1) weep but Nero? Death is terrible, but judgement will be more so: let us not fear then the hour of death, but the day of judgement. What his valour achieved was much, but what his mind suffered was more. Fame is the reward of conquerors; but virtue will have another recompense. Of what [service was] to the Romans the death of Nero, but to make an opening for Otho and Vitellius? The happiness of a liberal and opulent man does not consist in having riches, but in spending them, and not only in spending them, but * in spending them well.

Note a.—But for thee my son would have been murdered. Without friendship the world would be but a wilderness. Why does he grieve? He (2) ought (1) rather to rejoice at seeing himself among us. As he lived so he died. Whether thou be rich or poor, thou art not less obliged to be virtuous. He died on the twenty-fifth, as the clock struck three. We travelled without knowing whether it would be possible to arrive before day-break. I did not like his verses, nor his prose either.

ON INTERJECTIONS.

Rule 143. Adjectives employed as interjections require de before the noun to which they are applied; as, ¡Desdichada de mi madre! Oh! my unhappy mother!

Unhappy we, how dreadful is war to those who undertake it! Happy thou, Telemachus! with such a guide thou hast nothing to fear! Unhappy me! What shall I do! Whither shall I flee from my persecutors?

* See Note a, to Rule 141, Grammar.

Lo ! they are here with us ! Woe to those sinners who ete * Δ aquí ay† pecador die in their sins ! Woe to me, should death come morir pecado venir before I am prepared !
prevenido

ON COLLOQUIAL IDIOMS.

To act as, (i. e. in the capacity of,) hacer de ; He acted as notary on that occasion, hizo de escribano en aquella ocasion.

To become, (i. e. to be changed into,) hacerse ;
 He became rich after the failure, se hizo rico despues de la quiebra.

To become, speaking of dress, is translated caer or sentar ; Regimentals become him well, el uni-forme le cae, or le sienta bien.

To become, in such expressions as the following, is translated ser ; What will become of me !
¿ que será de mí !

To be in the right, tener razon ; to be in the wrong, no tener razon ; He is in the right to complain, tiene razon de quejarse.

To be near, or within an ace, is translated estar a pique ; I was very near falling, estuve a pique de caerme ; and sometimes by putting the second verb in the tense of the auxiliary, preceded by por poco ; as, Por poco me caí.

To be to, in such expressions as the following, is translated ir ; The abdication was nothing to the subjects, nada les iba á los vasallos en la ab-dicacion.

* See Grammar, page 254.

† See N. B. to this Rule, Grammar.

To be to blame for, tener la culpa de; Am I then to blame for his cruelties? ¿Pues que tengo yo la culpa de sus crueldades?

Exercises on the foregoing Idioms.—In arguments he that is in the wrong generally talks loudest. She was habla very near losing her life. But for him, what would perder have become of her! Señora Leonarda is in the right, said the old negro. Our footman acted as coachman in decir — lacayo cochero his absence. [As soon as] he becomes rich, he will luego que forget all his relations. Women generally prefer the olvidarse pariente preferir colours which are in fashion, although they may not de moda become them so well as others. We were within an ace of being drowned. What are his victories to the ahogarse nation? He brought his niece home, in order that she traer sobrina might act as housekeeper. He acted as if the lives of ama de llaves obrar his soldiers were nothing to him, a cruelty for which the soldado crueldad soldiers themselves were to blame. Consider, man, considerar that when thou wilt be very near dying, it will not quando then be a time to think on what will become of entonces pensar thee!

To care (in such expressions as the following) is translated darse; I care nothing for his threats, nada se me da de sus amenazas.

To fancy, (whimsically,) antojarse; They fancied that all would applaud them, se les antojó que todos los aplaudirian ; She fancied apples, se le antojaron manzanas.

To give blessings, echar bendiciones ; Give them thy blessing, echa tu bendicion.

To have to do, in such expressions as the following, is translated tener que ver ; What have the conquests of the Carthaginians to do with what I say ? ¿ Que tienen que ver las conquistas de los Cartagineses con lo que yo digo ?

To have weight with, hacer fuerza á ; All that he said had no weight with the minister, todo lo que dixo no le hizo ninguna fuerza al ministro.

However, in such expressions as the following, is translated por ; However great may be his merit, por grande que sea su merito.

To lay the blame on, echar la culpa á ; All the nation laid the blame on ministers, toda la nacion echó la culpa á los ministros.

To look, in speaking of inanimate objects, caer ; My windows looked to the garden, mis ventanas caian al jardin.

Exercises on the foregoing Idioms.—However good and wise a king may be, still he is a man. And if the boy [turns out] ^{aun} mischievous, every one will lay the blame on thee. ^{salir} As his victories would have been nothing to his subjects, what did they care whether he conquered or ^{vasallo} was conquered ? When men are prejudiced, there is no argument that has any weight with them. The front ^{argumento} of the church looked towards the East. What had his former victories to do with that defeat ? He told me ^{antiguo}

^{derrota}

^{decir}

that he envied my husband's lot, however unfortunate envidiar suerte f. desgraciado it might be. And after having given them his blessing, he closed his eyes for ever. Men often lay the blame on cerrar their ill luck, when only their ill conduct is to blame. conducta
 Some women fancy that every one that [looks at] them mirar is [in love] with them. Children fancy every thing enamorado de niño they see.
ver

To make pay, in such expressions as the following, is translated llevar a; They made my father pay a thousand pounds for the farm, le llevaron á mi padre mil libras por el cortijo.

To make the mind up, consentir en; The innkeeper had made his mind up to gain a great deal on this occasion, el mesonero habia consentido en ganar mucho en esta ocasion.

To miss, (i. e. to feel a loss,) echar menos; As soon as I put my hand into my pocket I missed my purse, luego que metí la mano en la faltriquera eché menos mi bolsa.

To pay attention to, hacer caso de; He pays no attention to what I say, no hace caso de lo que digo.

To serve for, (i. e. in place of,) servir de; A stone served him for a pillow, una piedra le servia de almohada.

To smell of, or like, oler á; His clothes smell still of gunpowder, aun huelen sus vestidos á pólvora.

To spare, (i. e. to omit,) perdonar; He spared no diligence, no perdonó diligencia alguna.

To spoil, echar á perder ; He spoils every thing he does, echa á perder todo lo que hace.

To stand in, (i. e. to cost,) salir á ; This work stood the proprietors in two guineas a volume, esta obra le salió al propietario á dos guineas el tomo. When the value, and not the rate, is mentioned, it is translated tener de costa ; It stood the proprietor in a hundred pounds, le tuvo al propietario cien libras de costa.

Exercises on the foregoing Idioms.—What I can assure thee is, that I shall spare no opportunity of mocking thy occasion burlar vigilance. Sometimes we will amuse ourselves with vigilancia en

hunting, at others with fishing, and so I hope that you * en * esperar

will not miss the city. I took him for the gardener, ciudad tener jardinero and for [that time] I paid no attention to him. And por entonces from [that moment] I made my mind up, that I should desde luego

not spend badly the time in the country. Wash this pasar mal lavar bottle ; it smells of vinegar. The salt water had spoiled vinagre salado

all the powder. This pipe stands him in a hundred pólvora pipa pounds, and the wine he drank before used to stand me beber

in seven shillings a bottle. From [that time] caves entonces soterraneo served for an asylum to people of our profession. We asilo gente f. profesion shall not make them pay to-day as much as they made hoy

her pay yesterday.
ayer

* See Note b, to Rule 136, Grammar.

To take the fancy, caer en gracia; She used to make us repeat all the airs which took her fancy, ella nos hacia repetir todas las tonadillas que le caian en gracia.

To take amiss, llevar á mal; He did not take amiss what I said, no llevó á mal lo que dije.

To take for granted, dar por supuesto, I take it for granted that you won't come with me, doy por supuesto que vm. no quiere venir conmigo.

To taste of or like, saber á; This wine tastes like vinegar, este vino sabe á vinagre.

To think, preceded by the adverb rather, or by to be inclined, is translated estar en, in such expressions as the following; I rather think that he won't come to-day, estoy en que no vendrá hoy.

To try, (i. e. to endeavour,) hacer por; I shall try to come, haré por venir.

To wonder, (i. e. to be at a loss to know,) is not translated, and the verb governed is put in one of the futures of the indicative, or in the imperfect of the subjunctive; I wonder whether these complaints will ever end? ¿Si se acabarán jamas estas quejas? I wonder whether the enemy's loss has been great? ¿Si habrá sido grande la perdida del enemigo?

Exercises on the foregoing Idioms.—I took for granted that I was going to lose my life with my poor ducats.

ir perder ducado
It is said that the manna, which fell in the desert, tasted of that which each one of the Israelites liked most.

mandá caer desierto Israelita gustar Some men die bachelors, because no woman takes their soltero fancy, and others because they have not taken any woman's fancy. He never thought she would have taken pensar amiss his proposal. I wonder whether he will accept the propuesta aceptar conditions. I rather think he [will not be contented] with no contentarse what they offer him. Had he tried to comfort her, her ofrecer consolar affliction would have been less. I am inclined to think afliccion that he will take it for granted that we will not consent to it. They presented me to the duke, and I had the presentar duque [good fortune] of taking his fancy. dicha

ON SYNONYMS.

Adonde, Donde.

These adverbs are frequently but improperly employed for each other, their respective imports not being exactly alike, for adonde is the corresponding word to whither, and donde to where; custom, however, seems to have sanctioned the indiscriminate use of both as equivalents to the latter in English; but whither can only be properly translated adonde; “I place my money where it is safe,” pongo mi dinero adonde, or donde, esta seguro; “I shall carry my money whither it may be safe,” llevaré mi dinero adonde este seguro.

Exercise.—Every one related whither he was going.

They repaired whither the negro and I were. I contar acudir

accompanied her to her house, where a grand-daughter acompañar nieta

of hers was indisposed. I don't like to go whither you say, because I like better to stay where I am. indispuesta querer

[Be not eager] to heap up riches, because where thy gustar quedarse treasure is thy heart will be also. In vain the murderer apresuarse amontonar

asesino

endeavours to conceal himself where he can; whither esforzarse ocultarse shall he go, that the voice of conscience may not reach him?
alcanzar

Agarrar, Asir.

Both these verbs imply to have a hold; but agarrar, (from garra, a grapple,) conveys the idea of holding fast, whilst asir, (from asa, a handle,) denotes merely the action of seizing, and requires to be qualified by some adverbial expression, when it is employed to express a firm hold. It is for this reason that asir is always used, either when what is held is not of itself strong, or when the exertion is inconsiderable; "He seized her fast by the hair," la agarró, or la asió fuertemente, de los ca-bellos; "He seized her by a hair," la asió de un cabello.

Exercise.—And the wife of Potiphar seized him by the Putifar

border of his garment, but he left her his mantle and orla vestidura manto fled. I took hold of his arm, and we retired to a huir brazo retirar coffee-house. He seized the tree with both hands, and café árbol mano f. pulled it up. He seized her by the arm, and conducted arrancar conducir her to the presence of the judge. Had I not seized the presencia rope that they threw me, I should have been drowned. soga echar ahogarse Had he seized him by the arm, instead of laying hold en lugar of him by his coat epaulette, he would not have casaca charretera escaped.
escaparse

Ahí, Allí, Allá.

These adverbs are equivalent in English to there, thither, or that place; but their imports are not exactly alike. Ahí always denotes a place near at hand, and, generally, supposes it close to the person addressed; "Somebody knocks at the door, ask who is there?" alguno llama á la puerta, pregunta quien esta ahí; "Examine, O man! thy heart, there thou wilt see the motives of thy actions," exámina, hombre, tu coraxon, ahí verás los motivos de tus acciones. Allí and allá denote a remote place, which, according to their strict meaning, the former points out absolutely, and the latter circumstantially; thus, "He dines there," come allí, leaves it undetermined whether, or no, it is the place at which he usually dines, but come allá decidedly excludes the general dining place. Custom, however, seems to have so much blended their respective imports, that this distinction is not sufficiently noticed. It ought further to be observed, that allá has more the force of to that place than allí has, and should therefore accompany verbs denoting motion to a place; "He thought that with only going thither he would become rich, as if gold rolled there about the streets," creyó que con solo ir allá se haria rico, como si el oro rodara allí por las calles.

Aquí, Acá,

Are equivalent to here, hither, this place, the latter implying to this place more forcibly than the former does, and therefore the observations made on the foregoing adverbs are equally applicable to these; "He comes hither sometimes," viene acá algunas veces; "Here I keep my money," aquí guardo mi dinero.

Exercise.—Here we are to sleep. Neither gold nor dormir silver were seen there. Come hither. Here thou wilt ver venir live in peace. Not only the culprit, but his accusers vivir pax reo acusador were likewise there. Take him to prison, said the tambien llevar la carcel judge, there let him learn obedience: immediately aprender
 they laid hands on the delinquent, and conducted him echar de delinquente conducir thither. I wish to see the wound you have there. He querer herida told me, that as he was coming hither one night an decir venir

 assassin wounded him in the breast; and to convince me, asesino herir pecho convencer he showed me the scar he had there. You write mostrar cicatriz escribir from France that you do not wish to stay there: querer quedarse remember that you might have remained here, but acordarse permanecer went thither against my consent: as you cannot return ir voluntad volver hither, if you like Italy, you may go thither, and try gustar to establish yourself there.

Debe ser, Debe de ser.

There are scarcely two expressions so much misapplied by Spanish authors as the above are,—even Cervantes seems to have mistaken the one for the other*,—yet their imports are widely different; for although they are alike equivalent in English to must be, or ought to be, debe ser implies necessity, and debe de ser probability; “The Gospel ought to be believed, because it is the word of God,” el Evangelio debe ser creído, porque es la palabra de Dios; “The news of their bankruptcy must be certain, because the shop is shut up,” las noticias de su quiebra deben de ser ciertas, pues que esta cerrada la tienda. The foregoing observations are equally applicable, when deber is placed before other infinitives; “This letter must contain money, because so I promised my friend,” esta carta debe contener dinero, porque así se lo prometí á mi amigo; “This letter must contain money, because it weighs a great deal,” esta carta debe de contener dinero, pues pesa mucho.

* La verdadera amistad no puede, ni debe de ser sospechosa.—Don Quixote.

Exercise.—The conditions ought to be advantageous, otherwise they will not be accepted. We must be de otro modo merciful. Pride must be his predominant passion, dominante else he would not have done it. I say that she must be sino merciful, because she forgave him. He must repent pues perdonar arrepentirse if he wishes to be pardoned. To spend as much as he querer gastar does, a man ought to be rich; but [according to] what is segun said of that gentleman, he must be very poor.

Es preciso, Es menester.

Both these imply that something is requisite, and are indiscriminately translated, it is requisite, it is necessary, or it must; but what es menester denotes as requisite, may sometimes relate to our utility, or convenience, and consequently be dependent on our will, whereas es preciso denotes something which either duty or necessity renders indispensably requisite; “It is requisite that they should live together,” es menester que vivan juntos; “To go to the Continent, it is requisite to cross the sea,” para ir al Continente, es preciso atravesar el mar.

Exercise.—It is necessary to die, and we must bear morir llevar death with resignation. It is necessary that we should bear with patience the troubles of this life. The cook, trabajo cocinera for it is necessary that I should describe her, was a per- porque describir son of sixty years. To be saved, it is necessary to be vir- salvar vir- tuous. You must wrap yourself well up, in that climate. tuoso abrigarse clima f. To soften wax, it is necessary to warm it. ablandar cera calentar of honour. Honour ought never to be sacrificed. The duke did me the honour of appointing me his secretary.

...the ... of ...

Lograr, Conseguir, Alcanzar.

...duremos et periamus de nostris peccatis.

poder manter

with the money until you obtain some employment. hasta que

So capricious is fortune, that those who do not seek her buscar obtain her greatest favours. The frogs besought Jupiter rana suplicar

so much, that [at length] they obtained a king. Had al fin

he not received reinforcements, he never would have obtained the victory.

Luego, Despues.

Both these adverbs imply posteriority of time, and so far they are equivalent to after in English, but luego circumscribes the time within determined boundaries; "After he read the book he sent it to me," despues que leyó el libro me le envió (i. e. some time after) luego que leyó el libro me le envió (i. e. as soon as read.)

Exercise.—After I satisfied his curiosity, [Well now], satisfacer ahora bien Gil Blas, said he to me. But after they understood the entender origin of the noise, their uneasiness [was changed] into inquietud convertirse en loud peals of laughter. After the captain of grande caraxada robbers had made this apology, he got into bed. vandolero meterse

After they expelled their enemies, they returned to their cities. After the sun appears, all bodies cast a shadow. hacer A

No obstante, Aunque, Bienque.

Of these three conjunctions the first two are equally employed to exclude an opposition, but their import is not exactly the same; no obstante serves to exclude a positive opposition, and aunque one that is contingent; "He is gone out although he is ill," ha salido no obstante que esta malo; "I shall go there to-morrow though it rain," iré allá mañana aunque llueva. Bienque serves to modify the first idea, diminishing its force; "I shall go to-morrow, though should it rain it will be a folly to go out," yo iré mañana bienque si llueve será locura el salir.

Exercise.—They have lost the battle, though, considering the enemy's superiority, it is not to be wondered at. It rains, though the wind is changed. The emperor and the prince are both great generals, though the latter is certainly very superior. She would not marry him, though he were rich. The atheist denies the existence of God, although all the works of nature proclaim his omnipotence.

perder casarse ateista negar existencia obra declarar

omnipotencia

Opinion, Parecer, Dictamen.

Opinion (from opinor) denotes opinion only as conceived, the others as declared; but parecer (from pareo) implies such an opinion as is given on the existence or non-existence of a thing, the truth or falsehood of an assertion, &c. whereas dictamen (from dicto) tends to influence future conduct; "Every one has his opinion," cada qual tiene su opinion; "I am of opinion that he will conquer," soy de parecer que vencerá; "They would not follow his opinion," no quisieron seguir su dictamen.

Exercise.—Physicians do not always declare their opinion. According to the opinion of the surgeon, the wound is not mortal. Many find themselves compelled to act against their own opinion. The good man replied, I am not of thy uncle's opinion. He always abides by the opinion of his physician. Ptolemy was of opinion that the sun revolved round the earth.

médico cirujano herida verse pre- cisado bueno hombre tio arreglarse Ptolemo revolver

Pertenecer, Corresponder.

These verbs are synonymous when employed as equivalents to the verb belong in English; but pertenecer refers to the act, and corresponder to the right of possessing; "They confiscated whatsoever belonged to him," confiscaron quanto le pertenecia; "Let us give every one what belongs to him," (i. e. what is his due,) demos á cada uno lo que le corresponde.

Exercise.—This house belonged to the hospital for many years. The title of majesty belongs to kings. According to her father's testamento will the estate belongs to the widow, but it has been divided among all. That colony has always belonged to the Dutch. Having divided the conquered kingdoms into several portions, each belligerent power took that which belonged to it.

Porque, Pues.

When these words are employed to denote cause, motive, or reason, they are synonymous; but porque expresses a positive inference, and pues one that is only probable; "He stayed at home because he was ill," se quedó en casa porque estaba malo; "You will not find him at home, because he always goes out early," no le encontrará vm. en casa, pues siempre sale temprano.

Exercise.—He demanded of me my daughter, because she is pretty; and I refused her to him, because he is ugly: he will find another wife, because he is rich; and will repent because he is old: he will forget my daughter, because he does not love her; and will not ruin me, because I am so already. And thus arruinar ya

 my master lost his life, because his physician did not know medico Greek. He will obtain the situation, without doubt, el Griego puesto
 because he has good friends.

Sospecha, Rexelo.

Sospecha may allude either to good or to evil, but rexelo only can allude to evil: the first, therefore, denotes every species of suspicion, and the second only that which is accompanied with a degree of fear. Their derivatives sospechar, sospechoso, and rexelar, rezeloso, are liable to the same distinction; "I suspected that my wound was dangerous," sospechaba, or rexelaba que mi herida era peligrosa; "He raised the stone, suspecting that it concealed a treasure," levantó la losa, sospechando que ocultaba un tesoro.

Exercise.—They had not any suspicion of the trick I pieza had played them. We suspected that they were coming to take us. I had some suspicions that he loved another prender woman more than me. We always suspected that he would leave us a good legacy. Not to render myself dexar hacerse suspicious, I did not frequent the house.

Veneno, Ponzoña.

Veneno denotes any species of poison, either as a simple or a compound; Ponzoña generally implies animal poison; sometimes vegetable poison, but only in its natural state; "The poison of vipers," el veneno, or la ponzoña de las víboras; "All cosmetics are prepared poisons," todos los cosméticos son venenos preparados.

Exercise.—There are snakes in the island of Ceylon, culebra isla Ceylan whose poison kills in four hours. He suspected that matar

there was some poison in his drink. The poison of these bebida insects is in the sting. Each poison has its antidote. insecto aguijon antidoto Poisons belong to the animal, vegetable, and mineral ——— vegetal ——— kingdoms.

Voz, Palabra.

Although these nouns when used as equivalents to word in English, are synonymous, yet they cannot be indiscriminately employed; voz implies a word considered as unconnected and unuttered, and should therefore be adopted when we treat of the structure, the real meaning, or the derivation of words; palabra denotes an uttered word considered as a component part of a sentence, and regards all the circumstances which refer to the pronunciation, the figurative meaning, or the energy of words. “This Dictionary contains many words,” este Diccionario contiene muchas voces; “I took them at their word,” les cogí la palabra.

Exercise.—His style is full of high-sounding words. altisonante
 We have had some words with them. He concluded his concluir letter with these words. The word ennui is a French carta word, and a word very difficult to pronounce. He re-difícil re- peated it word by word. All my words had no weight petir with her. Many words in that language have no plural. idioma
 He answered not a word. These words are offensive to ofensivo modesty. Avoid cutting words. His writings abound in pudor picante foreign words. Never give your word without having first considered whether you can keep it. poder cumplir

THE END.

McHenry, Luis Josef Antonio.

Exercises on the Etymology, Syntax, Idioms and Synonyms of the Spanish Language

London 1814

L.lat.f. 323 wa urn:nbn:de:bvb:12-bsb10587828-1